College Education Leadership Training

the career opportunity of the year for high school students

High School Students may now get a free college education while qualifying for the Queen's Commission in the Navy, Army or Air Force, under the Regular Officer Training Plan.

Successful candidates will attend Royal Military College, Royal Roads, Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean, or designated Canadian universities, as cadets in the Regular Forces.

They will receive service pay plus board and lodging, plus tuition costs at college, will take paid training with their chosen service in summer months and on completion of academic courses, serve Canada as Regular Force officers with the option of release after three years.

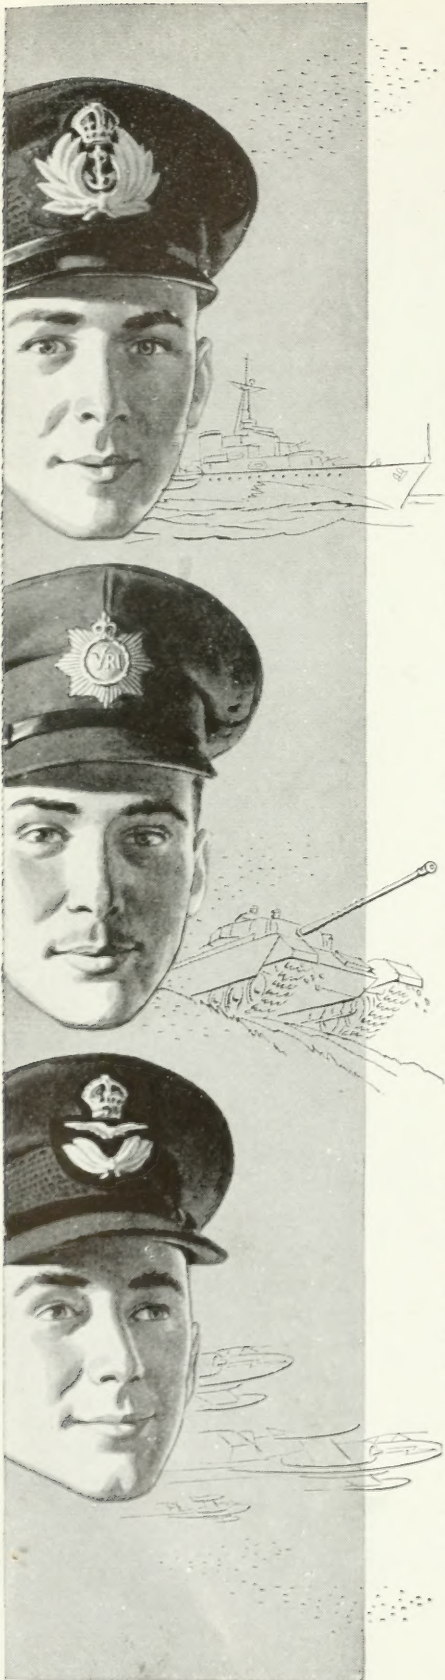

Applicants must have Senior Matriculation or equivalent, except for Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean, where requirement is Junior Matriculation. Age limits for Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean are 16 to 20 on 1st January of the year of entrance, for all others 16 to 21 on 1st January of the year of entrance. Applicants must be single, physically fit, and meet officer selection standards.

For full information write to the Regular Officer Training Plan Selection Board, National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, or to any of the following:—

EDITORIAL

IN a world such as ours everything is constantly changing. We believe that change is life and growth, be it of a country or a government, or a smaller unit like a school. If there is no change there is no life and activity, no growth. St. Andrew's lives and grows, because St. Andrew's changes.

Minor changes are a dime a dozen around the campus: an M.G. has appeared, also a new School car specially painted in St. Andrew's red and white; our esteemed music director has mastered the art of the bag-pipes and we hear that there is even a project afoot to redecorate the Masters' Common Room. We note too, more seriously, that even such a symbol of permanence as the Chapel undergoes change: it has been renovated with the addition of two prayer desks for those officiating, by the replacing of the two old flags at the front by the Union Jack and Cross of St. Andrew, and amongst other changes by the placing of doors into the vestibules on either side of the chancel. The concensus of opinion is that the Chapel's appearance has greatly improved.

But these are not the only changes we have noted during the past year. There are other changes which show that the School is growing in body and in spirit. As an experiment Memorial House has been divided into three smaller houses, each run by its own Housemaster and prefects, the division being by flats. Each unit is therefore much smaller and more compact so that the master can establish a closer relationship between the boys and himself and also between the boys themselves. This relationship works both ways, for the opportunity is given to the boy to discuss any personal problems he might have with a person in whom he has complete trust because he knows him so well. This change deals with the boys' private life, but there is also another change which greatly benefits the boy outside the precincts of his House. A tutor has been provided for every boy when he enters the School, a person who will follow the boy up and is there to help him not only with any stage of his academic progress but in his small day to day problems. This is a very great change and we are happy to say that so far it has been successful; though it will take some time for the scheme to establish itself.

There has been another change, something which is quite without precedence in this School. It was introduced in Chapel one evening by Dr. Ketchum who spoke to us on the need for brotherly love amongst ourselves. His plan was to have groups of four or five boys who meet at regular intervals to discuss personal problems among themselves and more often to discuss some of the teachings of the New Testament. Often the group takes a passage from the Bible, discusses it and sees where and how it applies to their daily life. It is easy for cynics and hypocrites to mock the activities of such groups, but these meetings draw boys closer together and many boys feel, often for the first time, that by trying to follow these teachings they are doing something worth while. The plan has been a great success to date with some six to seven groups operating. It is a wonderful thing which certainly will make the School more unified than ever.

It is no mere coincidence that these last two plans should have their main purpose expressed in the School motto, "Quit you like men, be strong. Let all your things be done with charity." In other words we should try to help our brother man—is this not brotherly love? Here at last, by bringing not only boy and boy but boy and master closer together, we are making the true meaning of the School motto more evident to all.

The changes about the School have been vast and certainly have created a stir, and the main effect on the school is that St. Andrew's College is now even more flourishing and with a life and growth of its own.

The whole school was very surprised and happy when Miss Rennie, the Headmaster's secretary, and Mr. Bennet, the Bursar, announced their engagement a few weeks ago. They are to be married in the school chapel on the seventeenth of June, and, on behalf of everyone, the "Review" would like to wish them the very best in the future.

Again this year the Trebles under Mr. Bradley have achieved great heights. For the third consecutive year they have won the Kiwanis Shields in the two classes in which they were entered in at the recent festival held at Eaton Auditorium. As a result of this the two shields will now be kept permanently by the school. More recently the Trebles sang on Ascension Day at the Festival Evensong Service held at Trinity Anglican Church in Thornhill along with choirs from the North York Deanery.

And this is not all. The Trebles have been invited to sing in Evensong in New York City on October 30th at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine with other choirs affiliated with the Royal School of Church Music. It is interesting to note that this choir is the only one from Canada participating. For this Festival the Ladies Guild have very kindly donated beautiful new cassocks to the Trebles.

Mr. Bradley and the Trebles who are listed below, certainly are to be commended highly for doing an excellent job and we wish them the best of luck in the future.

SCHOOL NEWS

We note that the school painters are still on the job, having added several more Memorial House rooms to the newly painted set. In Flavelle House, the dormitory floors were all recently varnished and waxed.

* * *

A long-standing tradition in the school has been modified. We have felt for some time now that the Latin grace "Pro his et omnibus ----" had become nothing more than a listless, habitual repetition which, though pleasant sounding, had lost its meaning and was not serving its purpose. To change this the prefects now have the option of reciting any grace they wish, preferably in English.

For the first week in March, the school routine was thrown slightly off balance by a minor plague. Several boys developed flue and serious colds, and many others were beginning to catch the bug. To stop this plague, permission was given to allow boys to break the school routine and go to bed if they felt any of the symptoms of flu or colds. After this the disturbance passed quickly.

* * *

The time was 12.10 p.m. midway through the Friday morning singing period. The date was March 4th. The location was the Fourth House Smoker in Macdonald House. It was a fire! Spotted by the boys taking singing in Chapel, it was not long before an ample number of potential heroic firemen were on the scene. Several empty fire extinguishers later and several drenched boys later, the burning sofa had been smothered, St. Andrew's was safe, and many quickly formed dreams of a holiday beginning in March were shattered.

* * *

It was slightly less than revolutionary when a new fad swept the Upper School in March. The boys who had previously spent their time in the smoker at such games as throwing cigarette boxes into wastepaper baskets were now playing chess! Left and right, after every meal and during every possible moment of spare time, boys were sitting hunched pensively over black and white chess sets. The game is indeed good training for a thinking mind so that if we ever manage to induce boys to start thinking, it will probably prove of great benefit to them. The interest in the game has not completely passed and it is still being played in Memorial House.

* * *

We are glad to report that Mrs. Ince is back with us again, looking healthy though tired after her long stay in hospital towards the end of 1954.

* * *

A shiny, bright red and white Ford Station Wagon has now replaced our former solemn, black limousine which had faithfully served the school for five years, as the school car. It's a good sign when even the cars are catching the school spirit!

Absent-mindedness? Well it certainly wasn't a bight and wide-awake Clancy II that attempted to make M. Tejada's bed one morning, without realizing that Teje was still enjoying his precious morning beauty sleep. The only question left in mind is who was the more absent-minded—Clancy or Tejada?

Early in the Spring Term, Mr. Bradley very kindly gave a short organ recital after dinner one evening. Attendance was voluntary so we were pleased to see so many attend. It might be interesting to note that on this occasion as always at similar events, the Lower School boys seemed to take a greater interest and turned out in a larger number than did the older boys.

* * *

A most interesting visitor during the Winter Term was Mrs. Davidson, an observer of current events. Mrs. Davidson lectured on the present situation in Formosa. Starting with a geographical and historical explanation of the island, she went on to describe the political problems that have arisen between communists and nationalists and their implications on the U.S.A. and the world. After the lecture, Mrs. Davidson gladly spent another half hour answering questions.

* * *

The Movie Committee has not had many opportunities to ply its trade since Christmas. Weekends have been so busy that only three movies have been shown wherever they could be fitted in. The few we did have, however, were of good standard and an occasional movie is always a welcome break in the routine.

* * *

Three new houses are on their way to becoming part of St. Andrew's. The site for these houses is behind the two white and green homes of Mr. Adamson and Mr. Ramsey. The houses are intended as residences for the staff and will be occupied by next September.

* * *

On the 19th of May, the visiting team of Mr. Lorne Main and Jim Bentley treated us to excellent demonstration of tennis. Both these players are among the best in Canada. Besides playing a fascinating set, they explained several basic principles of the game. Tennis is becoming increasingly popular in the school but there is still not enough emphasis placed on it in the Lower School. Older boys usually cannot afford the time to play it properly during the Spring Term. We hope this visit had some effect in arousing an interest in the game and encouraging the staff to develop this interest.

Professor Marcus Long placed a great deal of emphasis on religious themes during this year's lectures. Several theological questions such as truth, morality and God were discussed. We were pleased to note that boys showed a greater interest in these topics, by both asking and answering questions, than on previous philosophical ideas.

Flash! Word has reached our office of a questionable spree held somewhere in the Royal York after one of the School dances. A suite was reported to have been reserved under a "cover-up" name for the purpose of a breakfast party. The "Party" however developed into an orgy. A classics master is suspected of being the ring-leader behind the whole sordid affair. The reports, varied and confused, were not based on fact but they do show what humour can do—one must be careful.

CADETS

Of the four most important activities at St. Andrew's, sports, chapel and religious activities, studies and cadet training, it is the latter, which in some respects, plays the largest role in developing a strong character. Discipline, respect, pride and leadership are all brought out during cadet training. This year Mr. Holmes has once again succeeded in using cadet training to its fullest advantage and now that the term is over, we would be justified in saying that every cadet is a better man for his training.

The cadet programme is spread throughout the year. Beginning with occasional outdoor drills in the Fall term, it becomes indoor drill and instruction during winter and finally reaches a climax with the Spring parades and inspection. The Corps got off to a head start this year with an exceptionally good selection of officers, headed by Cadet Major Purdie, who with the advantage of previous Army experience, must be congratulated for his excellent work in directing the Corps. Cadet Captain Merrick, Sergeant Major D. Dempster, Lieutenants Sreaton, Clancy, Richardson, Jones, Kitchen and Newroth all did very good work in training and developing the Corps to the high standard of performance which was shown in the various parades.

The highlights of our cadet programme this year were the annual Toronto Church parade, the Aurora Church Parade and finally the inspection. For all these occasions we were blessed with fine weather.

The Church Parade to St. Paul's Church was held on the beautiful morning of Sunday, May 1st. After arriving in busses, the Corps was formed up in Rosedale Park and paraded to St. Paul's. The service concluded we were then paraded down Bloor Street to the Royal Ontario Museum where we were dismissed. The large crowd which turned out to watch the parade was in itself sufficient praise of the Corps' excellent standard and an encouragement to maintain it.

The Aurora Church Parade was held on the following Sunday, May 8th, to St. Paul's United Church. The parade formed part of a large V.E. Day parade by the whole of Aurora. After an initial confusion as to where we were to form up, the parade got underway with St. Andrew's in the lead, followed by the Aurora High School Cadets, the Legion, the Aurora High School Girl Cadets and the firemen. At the end of the service the whole Corps was marched back to the school.

Another very interesting and new event on the cadet programme of this term was the school's participation in the Aurora Variety Night. During the evening the band played "Road to the Isles", "A Hundred Pipers" and finished with a very colourful and precise performance of the "Retreat". Also on the programme were the calisthenics class, high bar and parallel bar teams and a "feu de joie". This last performed by the 1st Platoon or "Guard" under Lieut. Sreaton was an entirely new and rewarding experiment. The Guard lines up in two ranks and on command, loads rifles, presents and fires in succession. Three volleys are fired and the National Anthem played between volleys. The whole presentation was carried out flawlessly and proved the most impressive event on the evening's programme.

The climax of the Cadet season was the Inspection held on Wednesday, May 8th. Once again we were blessed with fine weather and with a large attendance of visitors. At 2.30 the Corps saluted the arrival of General Sir Neil Ritchie, the Inspecting Officer, who then proceeded to inspect the ranks.

The programme was suitably streamlined this year by omitting the junior tumbling and presenting both the high bar and parallel bar teams at the same time. These two gym teams put on an excellent demonstration of precision, strength and team work. The best platoon, No. 3, commanded by Lieut. Richardson, gave a smart demonstration of rifle and platoon drill. Sgt. Gray then put No. 5 platoon, the Lower School group, through platoon drill.

Also praiseworthy was the performance by the band throughout the afternoon and particularly during the execution of the Retreat, under the leadership of Pipe Major Maclean. Pipe Major Maclean has done an excellent job of training several new recruits to become worthy members of the band. To end the programme presentations were made to Lieut. Richardson and his N.C.O.'s for winning the platoon competition, to Pipe Major Maclean, to Cadet Snow for being the "best cadet" and to the "best gymnasts" Cpl. Newell, Sgt. Cowan and Cpl. Wyse. A short address by General Ritchie was followed by a "feu de joie" to end both the Inspection and the Cadet season of 1955.

CADET DANCE

THE highlight of the school's social curriculum is always the Cadet Dance. Held on Tuesday, 12th of April, it was well attended although not to the point where the floor became crowded. On entering, couples were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. Ketchum, Cadet Major Ian Purdie and Miss Betsy Chase and Cadet Captain Bruce Merrick and Miss Elizabeth Squires. The dining room had been colourfully decorated in the school colours by the Dance Committee (who wisely asked several girls to help them). We are once again grateful to the kitchen staff for providing the always welcome refreshments during the dance. Scottish dances provided an interesting change during the evening especially since most girls had to learn these on the spot.

Front Row, Comstock, Thorburn, Newroth, Merrick, Thompson II, Hough, Novak.

RIFLE TEAM

THE Rifle Team under Mr. Miller set a fine team record of 93.7 this year. This is an improvement of 3.7 points over last year. The team is fortunate in having Merrick as Captain for his second term of office. For the second year in a row he has attained the highest aggregate with 95%. Second and third were Newroth and Thompson III with averages of 94% and 93.3% respectively. Honorable mention is deserved by Comstock who, except for one unfortunate error, shot a fine set of targets. These percentages are an average of three D.C.R.A. targets fired during the winter months.

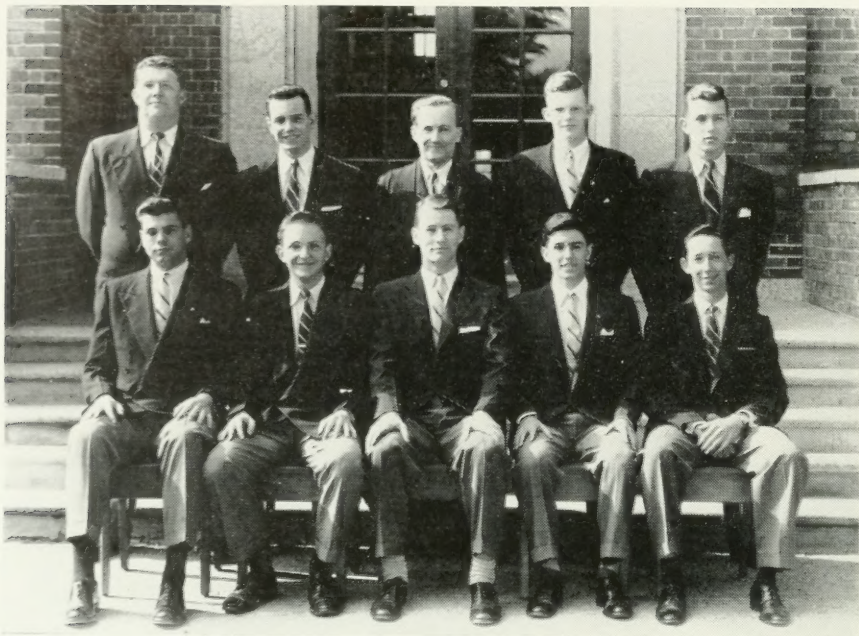

THE HEAD PREFECT

BRUCE MERRICK came to St. Andrew's in 1948, entering Macdonald House where he distinguished himself by playing all three major sports. In 1951 he entered Flavell House, and that fall was chosen captain of the Fifth Football team. Unfortunately while playing on this team he sustained a very serious injury to his knee, and has been unable to take an active part in contact sports since then. During the last four years he has had a couple of very painful operations, and a common sight around the School has been Bruce hobbling around on crutches.

But although not able to play any contact sports, Bruce has excelled in other respects. In 1953 he was appointed Editor of the Review, a position which he has filled most capably. Bruce has also distinguished himself in cadet activities and has shown great leadership, being promoted to the rank of Cadet Captain this term. He has also been captain of the Rifle Team for the last two years. And last, but not least, Bruce has done excellently in his studies, and was appointed a scholar at the beginning of the year.

Bruce is going to the University of Toronto next year to study medicine. We are truly sorry to see him go and wish him the very best of luck.

DEBATING

THE debating Society enjoyed what can decidedly be regarded as its best year in the past decade. Of the four major debates held, St. Andrew's won three and lost by a close decision on the other. A new interest has developed in this activity and debators are putting a lot more work into the preparation of their debates. Mr. Ramsey has helped much in this respect, by coaching boys on their methods of delivery though allowing them to prepare their own material.

The debating committee consisted of Purdie, Webb and Wood. The other debaters who took part in major debates were Vere-shack, Conway, Sreaton, Milne, Allan and Holmes. Of these only three had previous experience but all managed good performances in their debates. The Society itself consisted of many more members, some of whom spoke in preparatory debates against the official teams. Many of these boys show promise of developing into fine debators if they maintain their interest in the society.

Four debates were held during the Winter and Spring Terms. A fifth had been arranged with Havergal College but this last was cancelled when two of the Havergal debators became ill. The first debate was held at S.A.C. on January 22nd against B.R.C. Webb, Wood and Vereshack spoke for St. Andrew's against the resolution that "Mercy killing should be legalised". The Ridley team was well prepared but St. Andrew's outweighed them in both material and debating. Webb and Wood both gave good, logical arguments, whilst Vereshack summed up with a well delivered, emotional speech. As usual there was a large turnout of spectators and several interesting points were brought up when the debate was thrown open to the house. S.A.C. won the debate.

The next debate was held at U.T.S. on February 11th. St. Andrew's was represented by Purdie, Allen and Milne. The society once again opposed the resolution "resolved that mercy killing should be legalised" and once again carried the day. Both Milne and Allen were speaking for the first time.

The T.C.S. debate, also held on foreign territory on March 11th was the one debate we lost this year. We were well represented by Vereshack, Scream and Holmes but not enough time was allowed for preparing speeches and as a result the delivery was not up to par. Here again two new speakers, Holmes and Scream, made their debut.

Our last and deciding debate was scheduled for Friday, May 13, and was held on home ground. Webb, Purdie and Conway were elected speakers to support the resolution that "organised labour is a greater menace to North America than organised capital." Both sides were well prepared although St. Andrew's once again had better material. Webb speaking first, gave a well delivered, logical argument. Purdie and Conway followed up with excellent emotional deliveries and although U.C.C.'s last speaker made a particularly commendable speech, St. Andrew's carried the resolution. The last win gave us a tie with T.C.S. in winning the debating championship. The speaker Richardson, managed to keep the house in order and in one instance was forced to call the Sergeant-at-arms, Boswell, to quiet a particularly notorious heckler, Findlay.

Thus the 1955 debating session was wound up with St. Andrew's in possession of the championship for the first time in many years.

THE SCHOOL CONCERT

EXCEPT for the special trebles, the school concert is the only real incentive that St. Andrew's offers to musical talent. The school orchestra has been extinct for over a decade. Since the concert was begun three years ago, however, signs of potential talent have been blossoming in the most unexpected places. In fact for several weeks before the concert, the school must tolerate a barrage of the most unearthly sounds issuing from deep within little rooms in the basement or boys' dormitories.

LIBRARIANS

Back Row, Campbell I, Clancy I, Richardson, Cosby.

Nevertheless, as the communists say, and in this case they would be right, the end justifies the means. The concert this year was well worth the preliminary sufferings. Although there was no outstanding performer the standard of performance throughout the evening was good. The trebles opened the proceedings with the songs that won them the third consecutive Kiwanis Shield. Thompson, Mr. Garstang and Mr. Bradley as a trio, and Tejada II were the evening's pianists. Roger's accordion numbers were enjoyed by the boys. Later in the program we were treated to several bands, each with its own varied instruments so that by the end of the evening we had heard everything from flute to ukelele. Skits provided the comedy relief during the program. We compliment Mr. Bradley on his work in organizing the concert as a whole as well as preparing several features of his own.

THE BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET

AN atmosphere of Victorian upper middle-class respectability, with cross currents of patriarchal tyranny and filial rebellion, would test the ability of a body of professional players. Members of the Literary Society are therefore to be congratulated on the success of their 1955 production, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street".

The Hockey dressing-room?

The invalid Eliazbeth, by far the most difficult rôle in the play, was ably performed by R.C. Webb. Despite great limitations on his movements and without creating an atmosphere of morbid sentimentality, he succeeded in portraying an active and noble intellect striving against disease and paternal tyranny. J.K. Conway's performance as the paterfamilias, Edward Barrett, was of an exceptionally high quality. From his entry ("I am most displeased") to his final psychopathic outburst, his tyrannical selfishness and unctuous hypocrisy dominated the stage. The remaining members of the Barrett family were ably acted by Messrs. Burns, Richardson, Rutherford, Gray, MacDonald, Schlesinger, Snyder and Eversbusch. J.R.C. Burn's Henrietta was especially noteworthy as was A.E. Rutherford's rendering of Octavius. The latter's stammer was so realistic that several guests in the audience asked if it was a real impediment.

The rôle of Robert Browning was well acted by J.M.P. Wood. While at times his voice was not forceful enough, this slight fault was more than offset by his fine acting and bearing as the ebullient poet. R.F. Keith's performance as Wilson, the maid, very adequately conveyed distrust of foreign parts, but overwhelming loyalty to her mistress, while G.G. Ellsworth's appearance as Bella was all too short.

The other supporting rôles were capably performed by Messrs. Milne, Barnett, MacDonald and Richardson. One was forced to believe that Doctor Chambers (A.D. Milne) really enjoyed porter for breakfast, and one greatly regretted missing the interview between Doctor Ford-Waterlow (R.F.J. Barnett) and Edward Barrett. As Captain Surtees Cook, T.A. Richardson managed to appear as uneasy in society as Henry Bevan, performed by R.B. MacDonald, who appeared especially bored with life. Messrs. Richardson and MacDonald deserve special mention for their dual performance in contrasting rôles.

A great deal of hard work undoubtedly went into this production. The director and cast were well supported by those behind the scenes. The set was true to the period without being lavish. The dresses were tasteful and attractive. The electrician had the lighting right under his control, even managing to keep pace with Wilson, the maid, as she blew out the candles on the set. Illness fortunately stayed its hand until the final performance, when J.M.P. Wood acted with a temperature of 102° before retiring to the Infirmary.

HOCKEY DANCE

FOR the first time, a hockey dance was held during the Winter half-term week-end of February 18th. The occasion was informal and music was provided by the well known Bob Gilbert and his bandbox. The dance committee did a good job decorating the dining room in the school colours. Miss Hinchcliffe and the kitchen staff very thoughtfully provided refreshments during the intermission. Bob Gilbert had an interesting and varied programme of dances; everything from square dances to tangos, and mambos were played. The attendance was not large but enough to make the evening an enjoyable one and, we hope, establish it on the school's social curriculum.

SKATING PARTY

THANKS to the success with which the skating party was managed last year, we received permission for a similar party during last Easter term. It was held on the evening of February 5th. The party included both skating and dancing, with a warm snack provided by Miss Hinchcliffe in the Tuck Shop. Once again Branksome proved a great help by providing a bus which brought a large group of Branksome girls.

Dr. Ketchum merits a special thanks for his help in shovelling the rinks! Several other members of the staff joined the merriment on the rinks. Although this was solely a Memorial House party, several Flavelle boys acted as officials and handymen and particularly Carlisle who averted a crisis early in the evening when the loudspeaker system broke down. The boys are to be congratulated on their orderly yet enthusiastic conduct during the party since it was completely prepared and managed by the boys themselves.

BRUCE

THE Bruce Clan proved to be one of the best all-round clans this year, with clansmen playing a leading part in all activities.

During the fall term many stalwart members distinguished themselves at football and soccer. Hough, Gherke, Manning, Cosby and Findlay played 1st team football, Thompson I, Conway and Wynne were outstanding at soccer in one way or another; and many Bruce men bolstered all the other teams.

The winter term brought out all the latent ability of the Clan. Sweeping the Clan hockey competition with an undefeated record, and being close runners-up in the swimming meet were the highlights. The Clan contributed Cosby, Felesko, Caswell and Findlay to the 1st hockey team, and Novak, Gillanders and Wynne were members of the swimming team. Thompson I, shared M.V.P. award for the 1st basketball team, and all other teams were made up of many of the mighty Clan.

Then tennis team, gym team, shooting team all had Bruce men as members; and the track team had the services of clansmen, notably Dobbin and Browne I.

The mighty Bruce also distinguished themselves in activities other than athletic. Approximately half the cast of the play were Bruce men, with Conway, Wood, Burns and Richardson playing major parts. The Literary and Debating Societies consisted of very able members of the Clan.

Thompson I is our only Prefect; and Conway is in command of the 4th House as House-Prefect there. Novak and Conway represent the Clan as scholars, and many men of genius, such as Richardson, Dunlap, Wood and Cosby, give the Clan a bright future in this regard.

In addition to these achievements the mighty Bruce had the best Clan spirit with most members taking part in Clan activities. Let us hope that Bruce Clan will be as successful in future years, and may the cry of "All hail the Mighty Chiefs" ring out for many years to come, heralding more Bruce triumphs at S.A.C.

DOUGLAS

ONCE again the Douglas Clan has had a very successful season in everything. The spirit and determination was evident in the will of each member to "retain the cup".

Executive positions were our main asset with Merrick, editor-in-chief of the Review, Head Prefect, scholar and 2 i/c of the Cadet Corps; Purdie, Prefect and C.O. of the Corps; Swinden, Prefect and Head Librarian; Webb, Head Boy, Prefect.

Douglas held their own in athletics as well, with Boswell, Rutherford, Weiss, McAndless, Jones and Bouskill, members of the 1st Football team; the latter, along with Swinden, a member of the 1st Basketball team. Reucassel and Murray I represented us in 1st hockey, and Wyse and Schulman stood out in gymnastics. In track and field, although somewhat weaker this year, we stayed out of last position with the aid of Leslie, Ridout and Belden. Murray II was the sole representative in cricket.

Looking forward to the years following, there promises to be an equally strong Douglas Clan, with such boys as Roberts I, Purvis I, Abadi, Eversbusch I of the 3rd Football team, Coulson of the 5th's, Vereshack, Walker and Purvis of the 6th, with Letts, Shearson and Rolph of the 3rd Hockey team; Hill and Ferguson of the 2nd and 4th teams respectively.

In all, the prospects of next year seem to be in favor of Douglas. I do hope they are just as successful then as we were this year. Good luck, fellows.

MONTROSE

AS another year comes to a close, the question asked most frequently is "How's our Clan doing"? This question cannot be easily answered, as no one ever knows exactly which Clan is ahead until the final statistics are released. When the winning Clan is announced it usually brings a pleasant surprise to some, but more often a disappointment to others, as I might add there is considerable rivalry between the Clans.

This year the "Montrose Clan" has not been quite as successful as in previous years, in our actual achievements. Despite this fact the spirit and enthusiasm has been greatly increased showing that each of its members has put forth his best effort and should feel great self satisfaction.

The Clan was well represented on the football, soccer, hockey and cricket teams. We were victorious in both Clan Track and Clan Swimming competitions; the latter was won through our extremely numerous representation from the First Team and by their magnificent efforts to win.

As for academics, Montrose still appears to be an all athletic Clan, but really there are many boys deserving much credit for their fine records. It must not be overlooked that two of these fellows are scholars and must be thanked for achieving this honour.

We have had the good fortune of having two Prefects, of whom one was also Pipe Major of the Band. We have had our share of ranks in the whole Corps, including two Lieutenants and the Sergeant Major.

Now that I glance down at these few points I must say that the Clan has done better than I had anticipated. It is unnecessary to add that boys in the future carry on with the same high standard they have in the past, for once you are a Montrose member you will do so automatically. I would like to congratulate everyone of this year's Clan for their fine efforts, and "Let's take the cup".

WALLACE

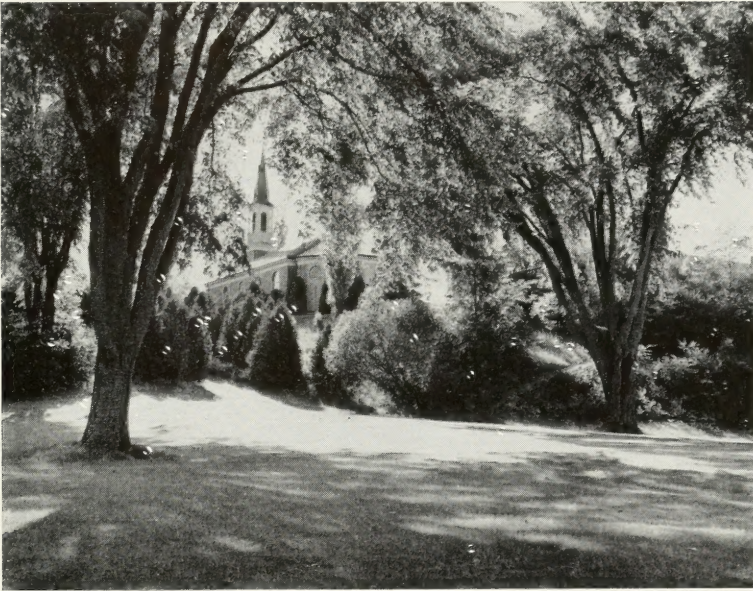

ONCE again another school year has become history and remains in our memories. As usual the clan competition, although late in being organised, was very keen. The Wallace clan did very well for itself this past year and shall do so in the years to come. Better than sixty per cent of our clan membership can be found in the V Form or lower. However it was clan unity and spirit on everybody's part that made the year 1954-55 successful.

First we are well represented around the world with members from all parts of Canada, Venezuela, Dominican Republic, Mexico and California and New York of the U.S.A.

Since the greater portion of the clansmen are in the middle and lower school, there lies a great deal of our scholastic achievements. However, the members from Upper VI and Lower VI exert a noteworthy effect in the clan's scholastic accomplishments. Amongst our ranks we also have a Prefect.

On the sports side of it all the Wallace Clan supported the 1st football team with ten of our members, while the rest of the clansmen played prominent roles on the soccer and other football teams. Six Wallace men aided the 1st basketball team while three played for the 1st hackey team. While these two activities were in progress the gym and swimming teams, to which Wallace made several valuable contributions, were hard at work. During the Spring term the Wallace displayed its prowess in track and field more than substantially by copping the senior and intermediate titles. At the same time cricket claimed several of our clansmen. Also several of the Wallace were N.C.O.'s in the Cadet Corps, while we had an officer, the best cadet, and several bandsmen.

When we look back on this past year we realize that it was certainly a year to remember. It was one in which everybody actively helped in one way and another to make it a success, and with the young element dominantly present in our ranks, the Wallace Clan look forward to a bright future.

CHAPEL NOTES

SINCE I last wrote a note about the Chapel, there have been many changes undertaken within the walls. The biggest operation noticed was the cutting of new doors into the small rooms on either side of the chancel. There were previously two openings which were wide enough themselves, but were partially blocked by a heating apparatus, making the entrance narrow and quite awkward. This has been overcome by the new doors put through in a more direct location. A noticeable addition is the new set of velvet covers for the Pulpit and Bible Lecterns. These were very kindly given to the school by Mrs. Merrick.

Yet another change is the replacing of the two flags on either side of the chancel which used to fly over St. Andrew's in Rosedale in the First World War. Although they were impressive and helped create an atmosphere of respect, it was felt that they were getting too dusty and, because of age, could never be cleaned. These have been taken down and put in safe-keeping and have been replaced by a new Union Jack and the Cross of St. Andrew. This change freshens the Chapel and I think that they mean more to the boys.

It becomes a tradition to congratulate Mr. Bradley and his trebles, who, incidentally are going to New York City next fall to sing and have acquired new cassocks for the occasion, but it is a tradition upheld by a sincere belief that the school owes much to their musicianship. They are warmly to be congratulated on their fine contribution to the Chapel services.

During the year boys of Upper and Lower Sixth read the Lessons in the morning Chapel services. This year much of the reading has been taken from the J.B. Phillips translation. It is hoped that this has proved enlightening and given new meaning to the readings.

In closing I would like to thank all those who have given up their valuable time on Sunday evenings to come up to the school to address us in the Chapel. Their words have inspired us and their ideas have proved useful and beneficial to all.

On Sunday, 9th of January, Mr. Wright spoke to us on the importance of concentration on the task at hand and emphasized not to place too much thought on past mistakes but rather to do your best at present and contain no dreams of the future. Do things for the day.

On Sunday, the 16th of January, the Rev. W.C. Bothwell spoke to us in Chapel on the three ways in which God speaks to us; the word of God as in the Bible; History; and the voices of our consciences. He quoted the word of Mary the Mother of Jesus "whatsoever he saith to you, do it".

The following Sunday Dr. Ketchum gave a very moving and thought inspiring address on love and its correct place in our day to day lives. He suggested that a movement to further this virtue at St. Andrew's should be instituted.

On Sunday, the 30th of January, the School was privileged to have the Rt. Rev. F.H. Wilkinson, M.A., D.D., Bishop of Toronto, to speak to us in Chapel. He emphasized two important questions that good Christians should keep in the backs of their minds. The first was "what can I do to inherit eternal life", and he illustrated it with the parable of the rich man. The second was "What wouldst thou have me to do, Lord", and here he reminded us of the story of the conversion of Paul on the way to Damascus.

On Sunday, the 6th of February, Mr. George Morrison, formerly with I.B.M. Inc., and now studying at Emmanuel College at the University of Toronto, spoke to us. He urged us to have an open mind in choosing our careers and give the church a chance to play on us. He told us to be honest with ourselves in this respect.

On Sunday, the 13th of February, Mr. C.C.M. Grier, former Headmaster of Bishops College School, Lennoxville, P.Q., addressed us in Chapel. He started by reminding us of his work with cadets during the war and then told us of his great respect for West Point, the Military Academy in New York State. He had just recently visited this great institution and he conveyed to us its importance and significance, and caused us to realise how closely associated we are with God, using West Point as an example.

On Sunday, the 13th of March, the Rev. C.R. Fielding, B.A., B.D., S.T.D., Dean of Divinity, Trinity College, Toronto, spoke to us in Chapel. He used the Lord's prayer as his text and he analyzed it for us in a very realistic way, emphasizing to us the basic meaning of the prayer. He said the prayer symbolises a basic way of life, and it instructs us in the things we really need.

On Sunday, March 20th, the Rev. C.D. Gemmill of St. Anne's Church in Toronto addressed us in the evening Chapel service. He told us why we should pray, advising us to follow Christ's example, and pray for guidance, for renewal of strength and on thanksgiving. He explained to the boys how praying is a natural habit rather than a peculiarity.

On Sunday, 27th of March, Dr. Sidney Smith, President of the University of Toronto, spoke to us in Chapel. He stated the importance of religion in education and expressed his belief that the younger generation was putting more faith in religious values. We were also pleased and honoured to have Dr. D. Bruce Macdonald present with us at the service.

On Sunday, 24th of April, the Rev. J.F.C. Morris gave us a very moving sermon on faith. He separated faith into three categories; a faith for living; a faith for knowledge and understanding, and a faith for dying. He dealt with his topics in a very realistic way and I know he inspired all those who attended.

On Sunday, 8th of May, Rev. Norman Ballard, assistant rector at St. Paul's Church, Bloor Street in Toronto, spoke to us in Chapel. He spoke on the development of character under headings of faith in God's control of the earth, understanding, especially of democracy. Understanding is the better part of love and love is God's will.

On Sunday, the 15th of May, the Rev. J.C. MacFarlane of the Aurora Baptist Church addressed us in the evening Chapel service. He gave a very frank lecture on discipline as a rule to grow up. He emphasized with terse and realistic examples and the boys understood him very easily.

THE FRENCH PLAN

WE feel that we have covered considerable ground since our French Plan first began two years ago in Macdonald House. Our purpose, as stated at that time, was to change our methods of instruction with a view to having all of our boys as close to bilingual as possible at the time of their graduation. This goal becomes nearer with every class of oral French in the Lower School. The results are encouraging in every way. There is no pupil in our Grade XIII who can express himself one half as well as the worst boy in our 'A' Group of Macdonald House. The younger boys appear to have a wider vocabulary, an infinitely better pronunciation and much more confidence. They may hesitate over a word, but once they have the word, they do not take long to use it the way they want it used. Of course they cannot yet translate statements like "we wash each other's hair" or "my donkey runs faster than your horse" and many other equally important phrases such as are found in current Upper School grammars, but is this really important? The fact that Grade XIII boys are not able to speak with the same facility is no reflection on the quality of our teaching in that class; it is clear evidence of the better results that can be achieved with a better set of aims. The tragedy, of course, is that, as pupils approach the top of the school, oral French must of necessity suffer at the expense of the frills and the exceptions hammered into the pupils as preparation for the Grade XIII Composition paper.

Varying our technique we intend to advance one grade each year, beginning next year in Grade IX. In a few trial starts, our Grade XI pupils have shown just as much interest and the same real desire to speak the language as the other boys. Even if they are beyond the so-called bilingual stage surely they can make the same progress with oral French as they can with a formal grammar course in French. And which of these is going to be of more practical value on leaving school? We are inclined to hold with the theory that "If they can say it, they can write it"; and I think it will be agreed that although they can write it, that by no means infers that they can say it.

Prize Day

Because of the possibility of rain we were forced to use the gym for the prize giving ceremony. The guest of honour was Dr. R. R. McLaughlin Dean of the faculty of Engineering at the University of Toronto and an Old Boy of St. Andrew's. Mr. R. E. Grass presented the Lower School Proficiency awards and Special prizes.

THE COMING OF SPRING

THE last of the flaky white crystals of snow fell from the trees to the ground. The evergreens formerly covered with blanket upon blanket of snow stood bare—strangely naked and unclad. There was the steady drip, drip, drip of the snow as it trickled down the branches below and down again and again to the already sodden earth. The branches of the maples stretched grotesquely forth to the sky, eager and hungry for bright warm sunshine which will transfigure them from the bare and ungainly, to the rich and to the beautiful. The sky above was blue, a fresh, bright, untamed blue, promising new joy, new happiness, new life. Some billowy white clouds drifted effortlessly overhead watching each other shake off its mantel of winter into its dress of Spring. The sun shone brightly forth giving luxuriant heat and adding fresh colour tones to replace the dreariness of winter. A small creek bubbled with joy as tiny streams of water poured into it, increasing its speed. It flashed along, each ripple eager to catch the next, fighting playfully with one another just for the sheer joy, running through closed woodland into open fields, around bends, over falls, eager to be alive again, free, free from the paralyzing grip of winter, of snow, of wind, of skates grating against its winter's solitude—free to flow, to bubble, to overrun—free. A soft warm breeze rustles through the trees with freshness and welcomed warmth, the breeze carrying on its silken wings the very breath of Spring, the smell of trees losing their winter covering, the smell of soggy ground, of warm sunshine, of bright blue sky, of billowing clouds, of gurgling streams, the smell of the whole realm of nature springing into life, eager, vivacious, joyous.

THE GOAL

THE climbers knew their goal. It shone above them, majestic, awesome. They knew the path; it wound its tortuous, patient way to the very summit. And so they climbed, ignoring the lesser, easier hills about them, for their goal alone overlooked all others, their goal alone was worth the price. As they climbed, the horizon opened out before them, unfolding a vast new and wonderful world. With each grudging step, the horizon grew even wider, revealing the secrets of the land, and setting creation in its true perspective. At times they stumbled and at times they had to help each other. At all times they needed patience and courage. Finally they reached their goal, and their's was the widest horizon and they gloried in it.

We know our goal; it is God, loving yet just. We know the path; it is Christ's own long, slow and narrow way to God. We must ignore the lesser earthly goals for God alone is worth the price, our souls. And as we climb, the horizon will spread out before us, unfolding a vast, new and wonderful world. With each new prayer, with each new act of charity and love, our horizon will grow, revealing the hidden mysteries of life, and setting life in its true perspective. At times we may fall, but we have brothers to help us. At times the way will seem hard and long, but in God we will always find patience and courage. Finally, having reached our goal, God will carry us the rest of the way, and our's indeed will be the happiest souls.

WHAT ST. ANDREW'S MEANS TO ME

ST. ANDREW'S has come to mean a great deal to me, and I cherish it as a second home. It is here that I learn not only from books, but the art of living together with boys from other nations and other creeds. It is a place where I can develop socially and, above all, mentally and spiritually. The older I become, the more I realise what St. Andrew's has done, and is doing, for me.

Physical development is very important, and here at St. Andrew's we can take part in gymnastics and sports, that not only keep us healthy, but sharpen our minds, and develop our spirit of team work. And of these, I think team work is one of the most important. It means a lot in the world of today, and here it is developed to its highest degree by competitive sports, cadet parades and Carol services. If you think a moment about the great need for team work in the world you will realise how important it is to instill it in those who are going to become leaders.

Mentally we are ever sharpened to the greatest degree of efficiency. All our studying, boring though it may seem, now is slowly developing our reasoning, critical, appreciative and imaginative abilities. By our hard work at books, though we don't notice it, we are getting a better understanding of life.

And last, but not least, we have the spiritual side of our lives. Chapel services at St. Andrew's are inspiring, beautiful, and though we don't realise it, they are slowly moulding our minds towards God. The world needs religion now more than ever it has before and St. Andrew's is doing its part to supply the need.

Now, combine these, spirit, mind, body and what do you have? A boy who is ready to step out into this chaotic world, who knows how to live with his fellow men, who knows how to judge people by their deeds, who knows what is expected of him, and above all, who knows right from wrong. And St. Andrew's is instilling all these in us, and more. And it is these qualities and virtues which to me comprise and mean St. Andrew's.

"QUIT YOU LIKE MEN . . . BE STRONG".

ON what finer motto could a group of boys set the basis of their lives than "quit you like men . . . be strong"? What is it about these six words that makes one want to understand them, then apply them to himself? It involves something far greater than the physical strength to behave like men, and in order to apply the true meaning to one's daily living, a clear insight into it must be sought and three rules must be followed. One must be strong in neighbourly love, strong in moral standards, and most important, strong in God.

Neighbourly love is a wonderful thing, stemming from a firm understanding of one another. The problems which burden many people today are crying out for someone who will sympathise and understand them; this is the time when one must quit, or behave himself like a man. To be strong is to be courageous, to be courageous is to have the moral initiative to forget past grievances. To be a true man one must aid in creating a happier community; the members of which will join together in a form of team work. Great accomplishments can be achieved by a group of people co-ordinated in brotherhood, and true happiness can be experienced by the spread of neighbourly love throughout a community.

Strength of moral standards can never be wholly attained by anyone, for man is not infallible. But to be constantly aware of one's convictions is a quality unsurpassed in human society. If frowns were worth a penny, this land would be indebted for years. The purpose of moral standards is to set an example of cheerfulness and charity; this is where strength must play its part, for many times one feels no urge to be cheerful and thus must "deceive" his fellow men by a forced smile. Yet, this is not deceit as we know it, it is in fact, moral strength, the strength to overcome one's difficulties. The sign of manhood is the quality and manner of moral standards with which one presents himself to his fellow man.

What finer assurance of strength could one wish for than the almighty power of God? At times, there is no greater way to find comfort and reassurance, than in God. Again, man is not infallible; he is, in fact, weak according to the laws of the ten commandments on which he bases his life, and he therefore requires some greater strength to aid his daily living. Why must the strength of communities, yes even countries, suffer conflicts with each other through lack of unity? This is simply answered; because they lack the knowledge of the main purpose of life, that is to be guided by a far greater force than society rules can supply. One who is independent of God will find it very hard to quit himself like a man, for spiritual aid leads to love of life. One must remember that, although physical maturity turns a youth into a man, spiritual maturity turns a youth into a strong man. God must be the advisor to the youth and the strength of the man.

No finer words could have been chosen to form the basis of the lives of youths than "Quit you like men . . . be strong"; strong in brotherhood, strong in morals and especially strong in God.

A SUNSET AT ACAPULCO

AS I gazed across the deep, blue water of Acapulco Bay the sun was sinking rapidly. As it disappeared it started to change colours, becoming as red as fire when it was almost gone. Now as the birds sang their last sweet melodies, the sun disappeared between mountains which lay just behind the cottages. The beautiful blue sea was as black as the surrounding night. Everything was quiet and the stars came twinkling out. The moon with its bright face had placed itself in the middle of the sky and as I wandered slowly back to the hotel, I wondered where the sun was shining now.

HOW FAR IS THE INDIVIDUAL IN CONTROL OF HIS OWN DESTINY?

THE Bible gives us two seemingly contradictory teachings on destiny. The first is very involved and is commonly believed to suggest predestination, whilst the other proclaims freedom of will.

If our lives were predestined, life itself would be meaningless. We would be literally immortal till the allotted date of our death. Life bears a startling resemblance to the stock market. God creates us with various talents and leaves us to invest them. If we invest in the ten commandments we achieve heaven as a dividend; if we invest in evil our shares become worthless, and our dividend is hell. Surely if God knew our choice beforehand there would be no point in creating us.

Obviously then, there is an interpretation to God's foresight! Maybe he deduces the future! In this way God would foresee future without interfering with our freedom of will. God knows those who are in authority over us, our companions and all the factors contributing to the formation of our separate characters and personalities. Our characters govern our decision, and consequently our reactions to the problems of life. The outcome of such reactions contribute to our common and separate destinies.

This theory does not contradict the Bible, it merely repairs ambiguity and supports freedom of will. If correct, the individual has complete control of his own destiny.

ARE WE CIVILIZED?

ARE we civilized? This is a question we seldom ask, generally taking the answer for granted, but let us explore the fields of knowledge, human happiness and art and try to find the answer.

We have a system of compulsory education almost covering the globe, with the most brilliant people at the head, and yet the result is a little disheartening. In our modern world, after thirteen to twenty years, we turn a man into the world, educated. And yet what does his knowledge consist of? Usually a little bit of everything and not much of anything. Let me explain myself further: although he has studied several foreign languages, if he has not specialized in them, he cannot speak any of them. In the age we call uncivilized, an education was profound. One learnt, studied and did research on a topic until he had mastered it. His knowledge was not as wide, but it was much deeper.

This business of human happiness is greatly overdone. We have all the modern medicines, methods for defence and appliances to make life easier, but we live in fear. It is hard to admit, but it is true. We live in fear of the unexpected and the unknown. Our "uncivilized" ancestors worked hard for survival, lived under cruel and tyrannical lords and yet they were happy. Their fears were small and they were not born and passed on from generation to generation.

In the field of art I do not see how anyone can oppose the theory that we are uncivilized. With our individuality and modernistic trends, we have yet failed to produce the beauty of stained-glass windows. We have tried to mimic them, yet ours don't have the depth of color and beauty that those of the old masters do. Can our modern sculpture compare with that beauty created by Ghiberti or Donatello, or even that of the ancient Romans or Greeks?

The results are shocking, aren't they? We are not civilized, we are barbarians, savages, living in a world of shallowness, discord and ugliness.

THE FORGOTTEN HILL

NEAR the city stands a hill, rocky, small and unimposing. A path winds its difficult way to the top, a path travelled by only a few who, like myself, like to get away from the city occasionally and seek refuge from the wearying noise, the unceasing movement and the dreary intercourse of daily life. This is the hill I love.

I like the hill best at dusk. Sitting atop this lonely throne I love to watch the sun ebb low over the distant fields. At dusk and at dusk only, the city is beautiful. The day's toil is over, the terrors of night have not yet come. Here I find perfect peace. Mild and lovely thoughts soothe my tired mind. The temptations and evils of life melt away in the warm rays of tranquility that permeate through to my heart. This hill, more than any place on earth, brings me closest to God. Here I gain a new perspective of life. I find unity and order in an inconsistent and changing world. The hill holds me in a beautiful and enlightening spell, a spell which few have found but which is open to all who seek it.

This hill—this place I love—has a sad and tragic story. Once grass-covered, shaded by languorous willows, it now lies rocky and barren, bared of all life by careless and wasteful city dwellers. The squalor and selfishness of city life is encroaching on it, creeping like a disease up its dead sides. And there is little hope for this hill. The city is not interested in its fate, and only a few men and women now know its real value. The future looks dark for this, my hill.

And yet I still hope. Who knows—perhaps the people of this city will one day recognize the true worth of this forgotten hill and honour it. Perhaps, I say—for the people of Jerusalem have always been slow to recognize

FUTURE OF THE COMMONWEALTH

THERE is a star over London, but this star has grown and divided till today it gleams down on Ottawa, Canberra, New Delhi, Wellington, Colombo and Pretoria. It is brightening and giving its luminosity in three ways.: by the resources it contains, the freedoms and ideals it signifies and the need for it today and in the future.

"The sun never sets on the British Commonwealth". This well known phrase has a deeper meaning than is at first apparent. It hints at how diffused are the lands, how enormous the land-areas and how diversified and plenteous the resources and products of those areas. This great English system is world wide and encloses every type of condition that prevails on this earth. How can the future of the Commonwealth suffer with every requirement of living and safe existance being furnished by some corner of this system. There exists no trade barriers, no high tariff walls, but a feeling of good will. Canada, New Zealand and Australia all supply food for England's heavy population, wool, lumber and minerals for her industry and receive in return the finest craft of British factories. Where there is a poor or needy partner the trading may be one way, stemming from generosity as in the Canadian gifts of wheat to India and farm machinery to Ceylon. But this alone would not hold the Commonwealth firmly together.

What binds us all into one brotherhood are the complete freedoms, equalities and ideas our commonwealth stands for. History has taught us with the lessons of the ancient Athenian Confederacy of Delos, the Roman and Napoleon Empires that imperialistic rule will not unite peoples. Our opposite views are the first found in history and will survive. The equal status of the nations within will glue us together permanently. The freedoms of religion, public assembly, speech and the press; the responsible, democratic governments and our great sovereigns tie everyone into a common, proud elite of the free. Thus, while Russia with its secret police and dictatorial rule is torn by revolts, our people respect and adhere to their countries. But this is not all that bind us. Our common ideas make us all of one mind. We think like brothers schooled by the same wise parent—Great Britain. These morals will always keep us facing in the same way and inspire us to protect and aid each other.

So we have seen how our power arises from our great resources and the ideas that unite and keep that power in one Commonwealth. Now let us consider what will increase that unified power in the future. The magic word is "need", for, out of need stems all mankind's good works. Without a need, nothing worthwhile would be accomplished. In a world where there is a great fear, people unite for protection and prosperity. And so, fearing Russia, there is a need for unity which is found truly in the British Commonwealth. Yet this fear will never die as long as the earth turns, for after Russia there will be a China or another country or some grievous misfortune. Thus religious, radical and national prejudices will be mollified into a Commonwealth tie where greatness, unity, brotherhood and even love will flourish and increase.

As long as the original star doesn't burn out or the others lose their vitality there will always be an even greater Commonwealth.

G. COSBY,

THE YOU IN LIFE

WHAT great man did not form a code of conduct, according to which he lived?

Coming into Washington, D.C., on American's Flight 112 one is captivated for a moment by a sight which is unique. Looking out of a window, one sees the tallest monument built to the memory of two men.

One monument was erected to the memory of George Washington. A man who during his life was the richest man in the colonies; and when his country needed him, he gave his wealth and his leadership to her, because he believed in her cause.

The other monument was erected to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the tall, humble boy from the back hills of Kentucky, who rose to his nation's highest office; and who in the end made the greatest sacrifice, because he had believed and practiced his code—Service to his fellow men.

If you should ever go on a tour of Washington D.C., a guide will take you to these monuments. Looking at them he will say "Because this man served his country best, his countrymen have erected to his memory, the tallest monument ever built to a man's memory."

And then looking at the other monument, he will say "And because this man gave the most, his fellow men have erected the widest monument to his memory."

One never hears of the richest man or the poorest man in a town having been remembered for that particular position in life. No, it is the men who serve the best and give the most that are remembered.

It is a good thing for a man to believe and preach his code to others; but it is a greater man that lives by it.

Another great and wonderful man, remembered and honoured because he was the servant to all humanity was the Gallilean.

The Gallilean was a man, humble and kind, believing in teaching, and living by a way that has withstood the test of time. He was the greatest man the world has known. The Gallilean, is the only man that came into this world to die; unlike Buddha, Napoleon or Alexander the Great, who all came into the world to live.

The Gallilean took twelve humble fishermen, who had never been to school, and he gave to them his teaching, and inspired these men so, that they were willing to die for it—and many did.

Jesus Christ, the Gallilean, hadn't any building or auditorium to preach in, but he had the fields with the blue sky overhead. Here he preached, comforted and gave hope to life; and he gave these things to the good and the bad, and he never betrayed a confidence.

So it is, that from the time of the Gallilean to our present day, the truly great men who accomplish and succeed in life, are men who live by a code of loyalty, both mundane and spiritual, towards others rather than towards themselves.

THE HORIZON

WHEN people speak of the horizon, they usually mean the point in the far distance where earth and sky meet. But there are other horizons besides this present in everyday life; horizons are also found in knowledge and in simple life.

It has been said that the more one knows, the less one seems to know. The amount of knowledge a person has always seems to decrease as he learns more. Ignorant people are in a pit. They cannot see over the walls around. They believe themselves to be clever. Educated people are on a high mountain. They know that their knowledge is infinitesimal compared with the vast amount that they don't know. Their horizon cannot even be seen. Horizon and knowledge are like a man on the prairie who started to walk towards the horizon. He discovered that he could never reach it because it was always just the same distance away. Albert Einstein, the mathematician, would probably have been the last person to admit that he knew everything in mathematics. His horizon was too wide for that. People's horizons are usually relative to their knowledge; such horizons can never be reached because no person can know everything.

Every man has a horizon in his life. It may be that he would never think of being anything but a milkman. Some men think only of earning enough to buy a new car. Some French Canadian farmers' wives think only of their next child. Some people think only of complaining when the roads aren't mended although they don't pay their taxes. All these people have horizons, which are ambitions, beyond which they do not look. There are many other examples of horizons in simple life. A man's horizon is always relative to his knowledge, even among simple people.

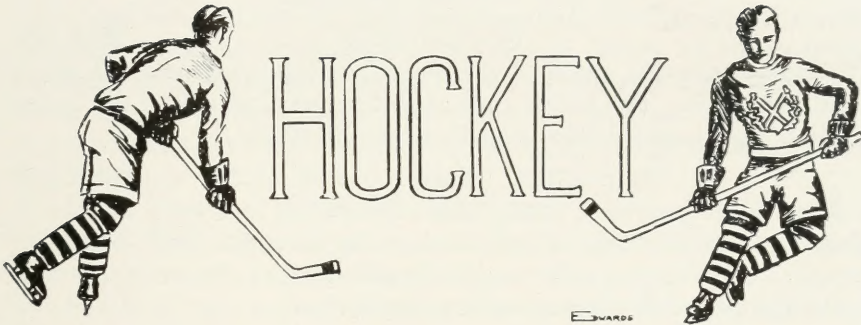

People speak of the horizon. Do they know that they themselves have horizons? Do they know that their knowledge or lack of it is a horizon? Do they know that all simple people have horizons beyond which they do not look?

FIRST HOCKEY

Centre—Screaton, Cosby, Yuill, Caswell.

HOCKEY 1955

THE victory over T.C.S. climaxed one of the most successful seasons in hockey St. Andrews has had. Not very often are we able to boast of a record of sixteen wins and two ties with only two losses. For some unaccountable reason former teams have gone "great guns" until the final part of the schedule and have then faltered badly.

It is doubtful whether this year's team really played a poor game. Even the loss to T.C.S. at Port Hope was not really a bad one. Despite the fact that it fell behind three goals in the first ten minutes, the remainder of the game was just a question of whether it could make up the score or not as at one point St. Andrew's was only one goal behind.

The secret of success this year was the really fine playing material and an excellent team spirit. The combination of last year's very strong under sixteen team and the hold overs from the 1sts. of the year before gave us a very strong team on paper. The addition of two new boys who had served us so well in football, Findlay and Keith, left us with few weaknesses. Playing material is always most important but many teams with outstanding material have been complete failures due to lack of team spirit. It would be hard to find a team in which the players pulled together so well and played so unselfishly. Robertson, as Captain, set a wonderful example of clean play and driving spirit, while Findlay, even when unable to play due to a severe injury, was a real driving force.

So here's to the team of 1955. May its members, most of whom should be back next year, inculcate the same spirit of driving play, clean play, and unselfishness, in the team of 1956.

FIRST TEAM HOCKEY

VS PICKERING

Won 3-2

IN this the opening game of the season, neither team showed much polish or skill. The score indicated the play, although at times brilliant spurts prophesied greater things to come.

VS SAHARA DESERT CANOE CLUB

Tied 2-2

The Saints played a much improved game, but were unable to gain a victory. Many excellent scoring chances were foiled by the S.D. goal-keeper, who made the difference between a win and a tie. Cosby and Findlay scored for the Saints.

VS OLD BOYS

Won 14-3

The Saints were merciless in their pasting of the former Andrean hockey heroes and what usually ends in a wild free-for-all, finished on a rather subdued note. Flashing their best offensive form of the season, the school had little trouble winning this game. Findlay fired a hat trick to lead the scoring. Caswell, Robertson, and Yuill each added two and Keith, Reucassel, Rutherford, Holliday and Murray topped the score with singles.

Ramsell, Angus, and Smith managed to score for the Old Boys.

VS UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

Won 5-3

The Redmen continued their winning streak by taking a fast exciting game with U.C. Keith opened the scoring for the Saints and Findlay and Cosby soon added two more before U.C. retaliated with a goal by Allport. Felesko increased the S.A.C. lead but U.C. came back with two quick goals by Logan, one of which was a penalty shot. Caswell salted the game away with the final goal—late in the third period.

VS UPPER CANADA COLLEGE

Won 5-4

The Saints pulled this one out of the fire after falling behind 3-1 in the first two periods. Perhaps the Branksome Formal had some adverse effects. However we believe that it was Findlay's jarring check that put those stars in Conacher's eyes!

The Saints were definitely outplayed in the first period, but they had a slight edge in territorial play in the second and third. With the defense handing out hard checks and the forwards going all out both ways, only keen goal tending by U.C.C. and erratic shooting by the Saints held the score down.

The whole team is to be congratulated on a truly superior effort.

VS PICKERING

Won 8-4

This win made it six in a row for S.A.C. Robertson along with his linemate Felesko scored twice to lead the Saints. Cosby, Keith, Holliday and Reucassel came up with the remaining points.

VS DE LA SALLE

Won 4-1

De La Salle iced a clean, fast team and the resulting game proved interesting to the spectators. The referee added to the general excitement by repeatedly laying down the law and the teams were often short-handed. Robertson, Murray, Felesco and Findlay notched the S.A.C. markers, while Mance broke the goose egg for De La Salle.

VS ST. MICHAELS

Lost 4-1

The St. Michael's midgets handed the Saints their first set-back of the season in a fast one-sided affair. Giving the Saints a lesson in "hustling" and never letting up their attack, St. Mike's jumped into an early lead on goals by McCallef and McMaster. Yuill scored the Saint's only goal early in the second period. McMaster and McGarrity fired the two last period goals to wind up proceedings and leave the Saints with their first loss.

VS NICHOLS

Won 3-0

The Red Raiders travelled to Buffalo for this annual clash with a keen American team. Each year Nichol's College improve and this year was no exception even if the score appears one-sided. It took most of the first period for the Saints to work the kinks out of their attack and meanwhile the speedy Yanks gave Murphy plenty of action in goal. Late in the period, Felesko banged in a rebound to give the lead to the Saints. From then on it was only a matter of time for the Saints to wrap it up for good. Cosby and Caswell were responsible for the S.A.C. goals in the last period.

Outstanding were Maischoss, the Nichol's goal-tender and Gord Robertson of S.A.C.

VS SAHARA DESERT CANOE CLUB

Tied 5-5

For the second time this season, S.A.C. and S.D. fought to a frustrating stalemate. A clever S.D. passing attack almost finished the Saints who appeared loggy and careless and fortunate to salvage the tie.

Yuill, Keith, Robertson, and Caswell lit the scoreboard for S.A.C.

VS T.C.S.

Lost 6-3

T.C.S. proved to be both excellent hosts and formidable opponents to the Saints on Wed. Feb. 9. The Saints were at a loss on the enormous ice surface and Trinity capitalized on it to end up on top 6-3.

The game opened fast and remained that way throughout, however in the first period the Redmen were pinned in their own zone and at the mercy of the hard driving T.C.S. team for some time. In that time Trinity rifled in three goals to take the lead. Late in the first period the Saints worked the puck out of their own zone and into T.C.S. territory. Felesko passed out to the blue line and Findlay blasted it in from there.

By the third period the Saints had gained their stride and were outshooting and outskating Trinity. However T.C.S. had knocked in one goal in the second period and added two more in the final period. The Redmen turned on a sustained last period drive and netted two goals by Yuill and Keith, but were unable to catch up to the early Trinity lead.

Outstanding for S.A.C. was Findlay whose fast breaks and hard backchecking proved indispensable, while Giffen's two goal effort gained him laurels for T.C.S.

vs U.C.C.

Won 3-0

S.A.C. left no doubt in the minds of anyone as to their ability to beat this team for the second time and on their own ice.

The first period began evenly as the Saints soon took the lead on a goal by Robertson who rifled the puck in from a scramble in front of the net. In the S.A.C. net, Murphy played flawless hockey behind a strong defense and the combination of these two weapons stopped U.C.C. cold.

The Andreans took complete command of the situation in the second period, hemming U.C.C. in their own end for minutes at a time, but it was not until the third period that they gained two more goals by Yuill and Felesko to end the scoring.

VS LAKEFIELD

Won 6-1

The plucky Lakefield team although smaller and outclassed never once gave signs of throwing in the towel and the Redmen found this game no runaway.

Findlay led the red and white pack with two goals, both scored from the blue line and Robertson. Holliday, Felesko and Yuill each bulged the twine with singles.

Lakefields's only goal getter was Hart who averted the goose-egg early in the third quarter.

VS SAHARA DESERT CANOE CLUB

Won 10-9

In the season's highest scoring game, the Saints finally salvaged a victory over the C.C. after two previous ties with the same club. The Andreans exhibited great offensive power but were lax on the defense and Murphy in goal was not given an opportunity to talk with the girls at rinkside.

Felesko, a hard driving left winger topped the S.A.C. scoring list with a hat trick and close behind him were Keith and Robertson with two apiece. Caswell, Yuill and Findlay scored singles to round out the scoring in a wide open game which was not decided until the final minute.

Unfortunately in this game S.A.C. lost defenseman Findlay who broke his wrist when he slammed into the post on a scoring attempt.

VS RIDLEY

Won 7-1

At St. Catharines, S.A.C. showed a rough Ridley team that they could hand it out too and handed them a 7-1 drubbing.

Although Ridley tried to slow S.A.C. down by hard checking, the Saints were in control all the way and were showing that end of the season excellence that comes to all well coached teams.

Keith provided much of the offensive spark, scoring a hat trick with a goal in each period. Reucassel and Cosby turned in strong defensive games and goalie Murphy was steady in the S.A.C. net.

VS T.C.S.

Won 9-2

The return game played with this team turned out to be one of the biggest surprises of the season, moreso to T.C.S. who had just finished a 14-game winning streak and were intent upon copping the L.B.F. Championship.

The Saints, however, were at home on their own ice and within the opening minutes of the first period Yuill popped in the first goal. This seemed to amaze Trinity and in that apathetic state they watched Robertson, Murray and then Reucassel rifle them past their goalie before the first period had ended.

Yuill appeared on the score sheet again in the second period and Robertson with tremendous drive and spirit also chalked up his second goal. Holliday also made his appearance in this period.

By this time T.C.S. had come awake suddenly and with the Saints short handed they put their first goal past Murphy.

In the third period Reucassel scored his second of the day and Felesko, dipseydoodling around the T.C.S. defense, scored a spectacular goal.

T.C.S. tightened up and showed sterner stuff by gaining a final goal.

The Saints, hitting on all cylinders, played the best game of the season and are to be commended on a first rate effort. Robertson, captain, although hitting the post twice and missing an open net gained two spectacular goals on breakaways. In all game he has set a high example of sportsmanship: never complaining when the chips were down; never giving up; always encouraging his teammates and giving everything he had for the team. This was his last game for the school and probably his best.

SECOND HOCKEY

WITH no attempt to find solace in various excuses, we are compelled to admit that the Seconds did not live up to the standard of their predecessors. They did not lose all their games!

FIRST TEAM BASKETBALL

VS AURORA

Won 60-42

S.A.C. opened the season this year with a very close game, edging Aurora 50-42. Thompson led the Saints by scoring 26 points, and is to be congratulated on an excellent game. At half time Aurora trailed by only 3 points but this deficit was slightly increased in the second half.

VS BATHURST HEIGHTS

Won 60-52

The Toronto High school produced a hard fighting team, but S.A.C. defeated them 60-52. At first the team looked very strong, but by the half S.A.C. had built up an 11 point lead.

VS UPPER CANADA COLLEGE

Won 60-45

Sparked by Thompson 1, Tejada 11 and Bouskill, the Saints came from behind at the half and posted a 60-45 victory over U.C.C. Outstanding for U.C.C. was Diakew who netted 14.

VS PICKERING COLLEGE Won 34-16

St. Andrew's had little trouble in posting a 34-16 win over the Blueshirts. Thompson 1 and Tejada as usual paced the winners while Price was high man for Pickering.

VS PICKERING COLLEGE ORPHANS Won 67-51

The Saints paced the Pickering College Orphans most of the way and ran up a 67-51 count. Bouskill and Thompson 1 scored 42 points for the victors while Pierbom netted 32 for the Orphans.

VS RICHMOND HILL HIGH SCHOOL Won 57-45

S.A.C. piled up a 34-16 score at half time and went on to win 57-45. Tejada scored 24 for St. Andrew's and did an excellent job.

VS VICTORIA COLLEGE Won 68-40

S.A.C. scored fairly easy win over this team. The team was sparked by Tejada who scored 26 points. The boys from "Vic" seemed to lack practice, but played a good game.

VS NICHOLS SCHOOL Lost 62-41

This year the team travelled to Buffalo where they suffered a 62-41 defeat. The Nichols team was superior in every way. At half time the Saints were being outscored by a wide margin but in the second half things weren't quite so bad. Thompson again led the team with 22 points while Kruger topped the home team with 10 points.

VS PORT CREDIT Won 66-46

Port Credit arrived at St. Andrew's with a team much better than that of last year. At the half way mark S.A.C. had only a 6 point lead. By the end of the game however, the boys had scored an impressive 66-46 win. Tejada went on a spree for 35 points.

VS RICHMOND HILL SENIORS Lost 58-55

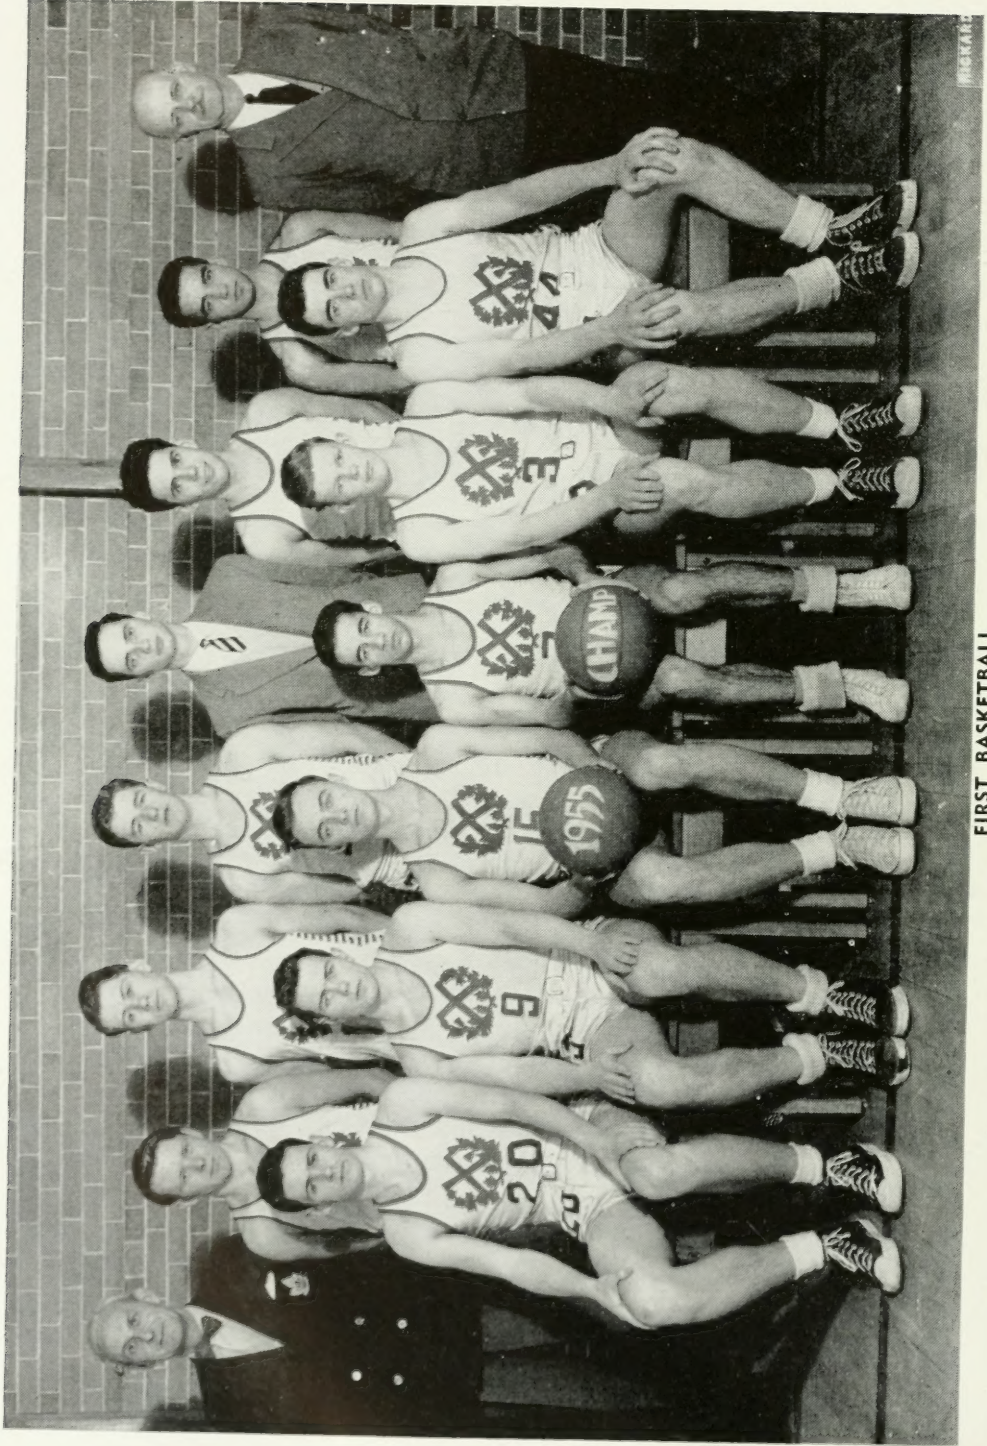

S.A.C. travelled south for a very important return game with Richmond Hill. The tension in the game was terrific. At half time the score was tied. Both teams fought hard in the next two quarters and at the end the score was again a tie, 54 all. This meant that three minutes of over time must be played. The home team scored 4 points in this period, while the Saints only 1.

VS NEWMARKET HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS Won 93-30

The Saints had no trouble in scoring the 93-30 victory over the home team. Thompson and Tejada, in a combined effort, scored 58 points. The Newmarket team tried hard to the very end but were never close.

VS VICTORIA COLLEGE Lost 84-64

This time Victoria College arrived at St. Andrew's with a much stronger team. The "Vic" team was sparked by three boys who all scored 20 points apiece or more, while on the other hand Tejada and Thompson were closely checked all the way. The result of this game was an 84-64 victory for Victoria College.

vs U.C.C.

Won 50-47

U.C.C. played host to S.A.C. on February 13th and the game here was very close. The boys in blue took an early lead and at the half were 5 points ahead. Then in the second half St. Andrew's overtook U.C.C. and built a slim lead which they managed to hold for the rest of the game. The final score was 50-47.

vs NEWMARKET HIGH SCHOOL

Won 93-7

The Newmarket game at St. Andrews was much the same as the first. S.A.C. scored an easy 93-7 victory. Tejada lead the Saints by scoring 33 points.

vs RICHMOND HILL

Won 63-28

St. Andrew's and Richmond Hill met in Aurora on a neutral floor this time, to break the tied standing. The S.A.C. team without a doubt played its best game of the year. Tejada scored 21 points and Bouskill 18. At half time the score was 27 to 7 for St. Andrew's. Then as the game went on the Saints increased their lead, and by the end, the score was 63-28 for St. Andrew's.

vs PICKERING COLLEGE ORPHANS

Lost 70-47

The Saints travelled to Pickering to meet an amazingly improved team. The team which had lost to S.A.C. previously now turned on them, and trounced them 70-47. The two boys from Pickering each scored over 20 points.

vs AURORA HIGH SCHOOL

Won 55-52

In the return game with Aurora at St. Andrew's, there was little excitement, although it was a close game. Thompson sparked the team by scoring 28 points. At the half Aurora was ahead 23-15, but by the end S.A.C. had overhauled and defeated them 55-52.

vs PICKERING COLLEGE

Won 57-53

The Saints came out on top as they did in the first game, 57-53 although down 19-10 at half time. Led by Thompson in the second half who netted 24 points the Saints put on a terrific drive and picked up a 4 point margin at the final whistle.

vs PARRY SOUND COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

Won 72-50

St. Andrew's; Southern Georgian Bay district champions met Parry Sound C.I. the Northern Champs in a home-and-home total point series for the district championship. It looked dark for the Saints in the first few minutes but they overcame a 21-8 deficit and finished strongly to win 72-50. High scorer was Tejada with 24 points.

vs RIDLEY COLLEGE

Won 79-63

S.A.C. travelled to St. Catharines to play their final Little Big Four game of the season. The game was closely fought all the way but St. Andrew's emerged ahead near the end to win 79-63. High scorer for S.A.C. was Tejada with 29 points while Broadway led the losers with 20 points.

vs PARRY SOUND C.L.

Lost 72-48

St. Andrew's travelled to Parry Sound for the final game for the Georgian Bay District Championship. The Saints went into the game with a 22 point lead in the series, but showed a complete reversal of form and at half time the margin was whittled down to three points. Parry Sound continued strongly and won the game 72-48 and took the series by a slim margin of two points. Maxwell for Parry Sound was high scorer with 25 points.

SECOND BASKETBALL

Back Row—Browne, Mr. Kendall, McKendrick

SECOND BASKETBALL

THE Seconds captained by McKee enjoyed a good season this year posting 10 victories against 6 defeats. Perhaps the highlight of the season was the game against Ridley. At $\frac{3}{4}$ time the Saints, trailing by 10 points, came back whittling the lead to a couple of points. Just when victory was in sight near the end of the game, however, Ridley put on a sustained drive and was able to take the game by two points. Colours were awarded to McKee, Thomson II, Mulanovich, and Tschudi.

D.M.D.

THIRD BASKETBALL

Back Row—Mr. Ramsey, Edwards-Davies, Belden, Eversbusch II, Richardson
 Front Row—Sichel, DuBarry, Albury II, Waddell, Vaughan, Andrews

THIRD BASKETBALL

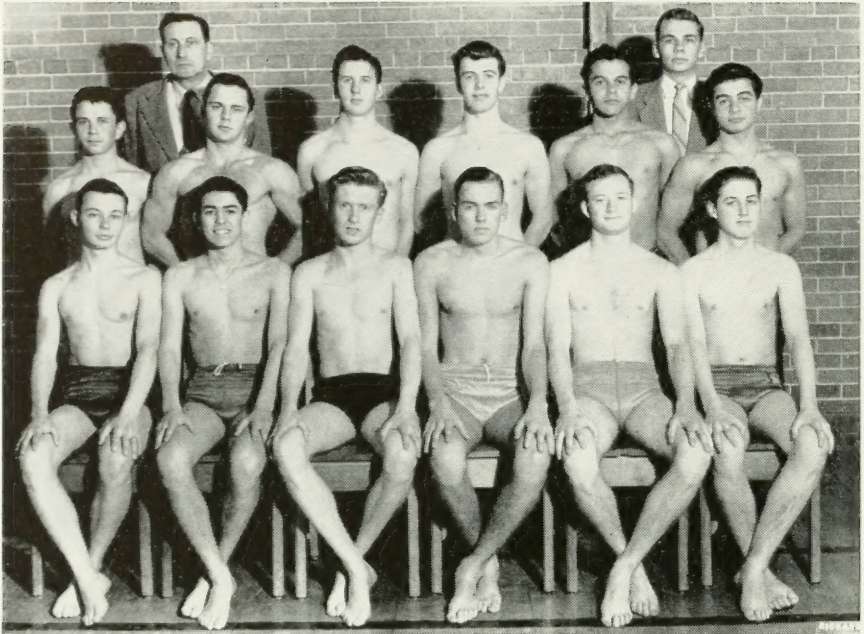

LED by Waddell who was captain and the high scorer of the team, the Thirds had a fair season winning just over half of their games. Their best effort of the season was against Markham High School when they ran up a 45-40 victory. Although not a high-scoring team, they relied mostly on teamwork and will probably form the backbone of the Seconds next year.

SWIMMING 1955

THAT cycle or swimming streak has somehow missed S.A.C. for the past two years but we are confident that some time in the near future S.A.C. will produce a Little Big Four championship team. However it would be an injustice to say that the '55 team failed to maintain the spirit required of any Andrean team. This year's team relied on relatively few outstanding individuals and in a few meets was handicapped still more by sickness. Even so S.A.C. held its own in the exhibition meets. The team is therefore to be commended on its fine showing even with those discrepancies.

In the school it should be noted that members of the Upper Sixth are unable to devote the time necessary to practice and therefore every effort should be made to locate able swimmers and divers preferably in the Lower School and to encourage them in every possible way.

The beginning of the Little Big Four meet at Hart House on March 12th was indeed a tense moment for all competitors and to a smaller degree for all spectators. By the end of the meet U.C.C. however, had defended its title very well against the other schools. Ridley gave U.C.C. its toughest competition always placing just behind a U.C.C. swimmer in every race. The meet saw two records shattered. Walbank of U.C.C. won the 100 yds. free style in a fast 58.2 secs. and Freeman of B.R.C. won the 50 yds. breast stroke with a time of 30 secs. About the 100 yds. free style race we should mention that Robertson was right at the heels of Walbank and placed second, also in a very good time. The 50 yds. breast stroke race was rather an interesting event and one with surprising results because MacInnis was favoured to win.

The most outstanding team was the U.C.C. club with Walbank, MacInnis and Ridpath as its outstanding swimmers. This team was unrivalled and it was therefore not surprising that they won the championship again.

In Robertson's two remaining years the school can be sure that a good team will be developed under his guidance. Robertson with the help of Jones, his vice-captain, did a fine job with the supervising and coaching of the team this year and is to be heartily congratulated. We are most appreciative of Mr. Edwards-Davies for having spent so much time in the pool and for his general supervision of the team.

Two outstanding improvements of last year's team are Jones and Webb. Jones did very well on the spring board this year and Webb greatly improved in his 50 yd. breast stroke specialty.

Colours were awarded as follows:

1st team	Robertson Jones Webb McLean
2nd team	Barber Kelly

The standings of the meets were as follows:

vs U. of T.	Won 36-29
vs Jarvis Collegiate	Won 37-30
vs U. of T.	Won 28-27

GYM TEAM

GYMNASTICS has become very popular. Next year there may be two gym teams in operation.

This year the team was composed of relatively young boys. The team will remain intact next year.

The team entered two meets this year. The first was held at St. Andrews. Humberside and Etobicoke Collegiate were the guests. St. Andrew's won a first in this meet. The second was an invitation meet held at Etobicoke. The team placed fifth.

The gym team gave two exhibitions this year. The first was at Aurora. The display was viewed by some two thousand Aurora people. The second was an exhibition for the Cadet inspection. This was by far the best effort of the year.

The gymnastic medal was won this year by Newell, Wyse placed second and Cowan third.

TENNIS

To those who are keenly interested in the game, it has always seemed that there is a certain lack of organization as far as tennis is concerned, especially now that there is a team entered in competition.

This year we have taken the first step in an all-out effort to remedy this situation. Mr. Macfarlane and the Captain of the team have tried to bring order out of chaos. Boys must now reserve a court ahead of time. To encourage tennis in the Lower School a few of the more promising players have been given some coaching. It is our hope that this plan will be in full swing next year.

The tennis team this year was composed of Gray 1, first singles, Mulanovich, second singles, and Webb and Herrera playing the doubles. The practicing hours of the team are very limited and always seem to clash with other athletic activities which usually take priority. Next year we hope this situation will also be remedied.

Although Webb is leaving this year, we expect that a high standard may be attained with sufficient practice and perhaps the registering of a tennis-keen new boy.

COSSA MEET

FOR the second successive year, the School finished on the top rung in the Central Ontario Secondary School Association (Georgian Bay District) track and field meet held at Pickering College.

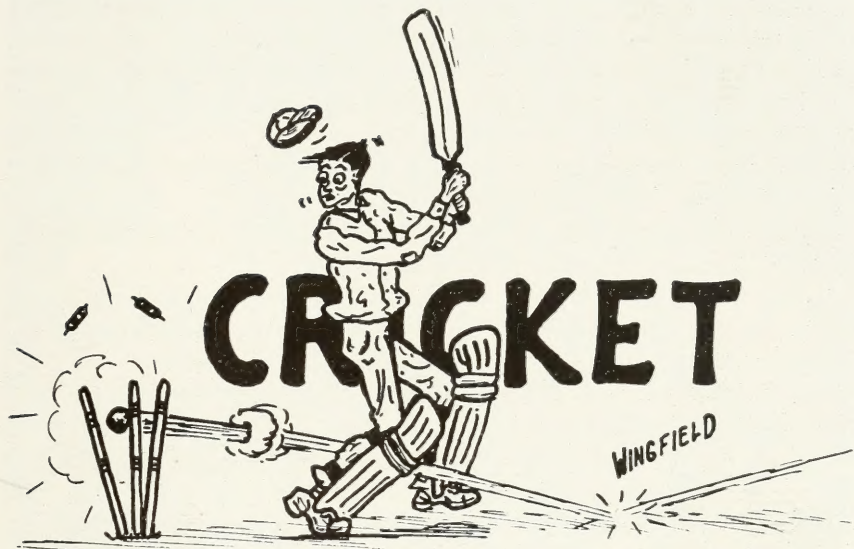

Although no records were broken by the School team, the 880 yard relay crew, composed of Dobbin, Cowan, Tschudi and Murray, equalled the old rank of one minute and forty seconds. Thanks to their efforts and those of the whole team, we eked out a two point win over Pickering College 55-53 to capture the laurels for the day.

S.A.C. placed in the following events:—

Senior	880 yards	3rd. Keith
	440 yd. Relay	Second
	Hop Step & Jump	3rd Keith
	Javelin	1st Mazzei. Distance 126'.
	12 lb. Shot Put	2nd Merrick.
Junior	220 yards	1st Cowan 25.1 secs.
	440 yds.	2nd Dobbin
	120 yards	2nd Tschudi
	880 yd. Relay	S.A.C. 1st. 44.4 secs. (Tied record)
	High Jump	1st Muirhead, 2nd Cowan 5'3"
	Discus	2nd Cowan
	Javelin	2nd Cosby
	12 lb. Shot Put	3rd Muirhead.

FIRST CRICKET
Back Row, Dinnick I, Dunlap, Dr. Ketchum, Buchanan, Copeland, Mr. Gibb, Yuill.
Front Row, Gray I, Conway, McLean, Tejada I, Ketchum, Wyse.

If we consider results alone, we must review a disappointing season. But there is no need to do this; the picture has been brightened by some promising young talent in the Under 16's, 2nd XI's as well as the 1st's and by some heartening enthusiasm for the game in many quarters. Our problem is not so much a lack of enthusiastic boys for the 1st XI but rather competition with other activities—notably Cadet Corps and exams.

Perhaps one of the bright spots of our cricket this year has been the wickets produced by Harry Davis. Few people realise the hours of patience which go into the preparation of these wickets which are undoubtedly the finest in Ontario, perhaps in Canada. In addition Harry continues to do a magnificent craftsman's job in repairing broken bats, pads and other equipment. Visiting teams inevitably make some comment on Harry's preparatory work which make the chance of an afternoon's cricket more sure.

Although our first team was undoubtedly weak the highest commendation must be given to the Captain, Tejada, who put all possible energy into the direction of the team as well as to his bowling. In addition when his team came to bat, though lacking style, he always did his utmost to attack.

David Gray is one of our few bastmen—and a good one. Unfortunately though little fault of his own, he was "run out" in two of the three school games. He is to be with us for another two years and we are looking for several 50's in coming seasons.

Peter Ketchum has considerable potential. His bowling has not maintained the promise it showed two years ago. In fact his fault is largely that which is common to most of our bowlers: failure to realise that length and control come before anything else. This requires practice, practice as well as ability. He is becoming a fine forcing batsman, but he must control his desire to "cow" the good length ball on the leg stump.

Other promising young players are Murray, Wyse, Buchanan, Dinnick, Dunlap, Swinden, Yuill and Rutherford.

In the Grace Church game our visitors batted first making 71, of which Johnny Cole made 30, with Tejada, Gray and Murray sharing the wickets. In reply the school made only 38.

Our batting against Toronto showed signs of improvement. We managed to reach a total of 99, of which Gray made 39 and Ketchum 35. Toronto made 137 and Tejada bowled well to take 3 for 28.

Against Yorkshire we were able to admire some excellent batting by White and Bonadie. Yorkshire made 149 to which we were able to reply with 47.

Against T.C.S. we came within reasonable range of victory. Although we opened disastrously and had four wickets down for 12 runs we managed with the aid of some determined batting by Gray and Buchanan to reach 84. For a short while we had T.C.S. worried with only 15 runs on the board and four wickets down. However god batting by Hyland raised their total to 98 for 6.

U.C.C. were too good for us. They made a well deserved 218 for 5, including a very nice 100 not out by Gibson, and we replied with 82. Tejada bowled determinedly and consistently in face of heavy odds.

Although we were encouraged by an early success against Ridley, they mounted a score of 159, Weynerowski making a nice 45. Tejada took 6 for 45. We replied with 59. The situation was not too black as we passed 40 with three wickets down and Gray nicely set. Then disaster struck; both Gray and a little later Wyse being very foolishly run out.

Our fielding throughout was not up to standard and may well have cost us two of the games.

Under Sixteen

The Under Sixteens, always a squad that is rather short on cricketers of experience was worse off than usual this year. Four boys who would normally have made the jump from Macdonald House soared straight to the First XI. Mr. Kyle worked hard with the squad and some of his more successful players, notably Sichel and Albury II, were those who had hardly played before.

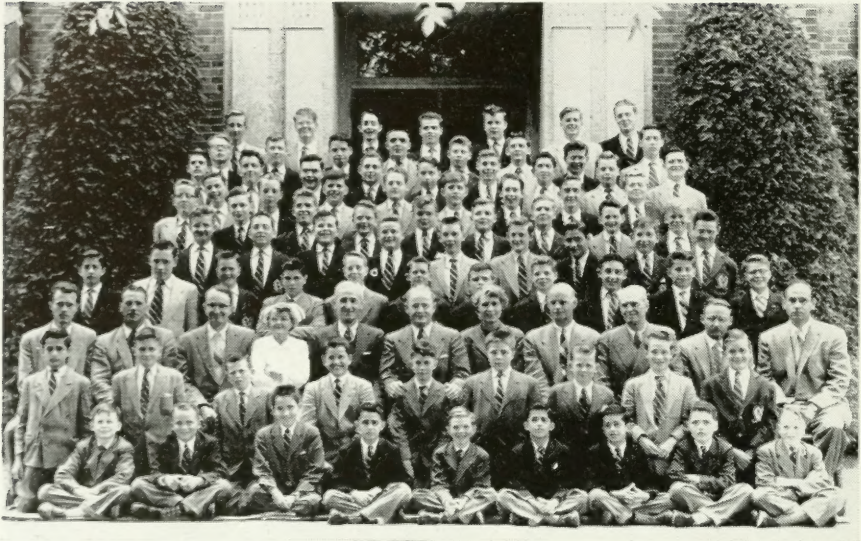

UNDER SIXTEEN

Back Row, Thompson II, Burns II, Mr. Kyle, Crocker, Albury II.
 Front Row, Coulson I, Shearson, McKee, Barber, Eversbusch II, Sichel.

The game with U.C.C. played in Toronto ended in a victory for the hosts, 88-72. Of the S.A.C. total, Gray II made 27 and Sichel 20 not out and when U.C.C. batted, Murray and Gray shared 8 wickets evenly.

The T.C.S. game was a little one-sided, 92 for 7 to 35 in favour of T.C.S. Their bowling was too strong and Wilson took 6 for 13. Albury 11 was high scorer for S.A.C. with 15 not out.

EDITORIAL

KING SOLOMON once said, "Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore, get wisdom". Let us change the words of the wisest King and say: Nobility of character is a good thing, therefore, get nobility of character. As you leave for your summer vacation, I want you to consider three things relative to character. First, note that character is a personal matter. It belongs to the individual, and cannot be bought, inherited, borrowed or sold. Each boy must build his own. Second, nobility of character may be regarded as a valuable personal asset. Every school wants a boy who is honest, reliable and trustworthy. Character means influence. The world listens to men of intellect, but it reveres men of character. Character means confidence. Integrity of character will create confidence. It will lift him above the bargainings of groups. Thus nobility of character is always a personal asset. Always remember whenever you are in school, in business or in the home, it is not ability alone, but ability and integrity; not cleverness alone, but cleverness and character; not talents alone, but talents and goodness, that make boys leader of boys, and men leaders of men. Third, it is interesting to note that men grow into images of men they admire. Admiration leads to emulation, emulation to imitation, and imitation to regulation. Another school year has come to a close. May I suggest that you think of character building during your holidays. St. Paul said "Whatsoever things are true; whatsoever things are honorable; whatsoever things are just; whatsoever things are pure; whatsoever things are lovely; whatsoever things are of good report; think on these things". Always remember, as a boy thinketh in his heart so is he. May a happy, healthy and restful holiday be yours.

The Review is sorry to hear that, owing to ill health, Mrs. Morning will not be teaching next year. We have all admired the quiet efficiency of Mrs. Morning, and we know that the boys with whom she dealt will always remember her with gratitude. We wish her a speedy recovery. A warm welcome will be hers at any time at St. Andrew's.

We would like to thank Mr. Sharpe for his gift of several billiard cues for our games room. The mortality rate of previous equipment has been high, so we are thrilled to receive this gift.

Once again the Trebles, under the leadership of Mr. Bradley, are to be commended for winning further laurels at the Kiwanis Music Festival. This is the third consecutive year the Trebles have won their classes in competition. The Kiwanis shields now become the property of St. Andrew's College.

Everyone is impressed with the new cassocks of the Trebles. They are scarlet in colour, and are well tailored. All the boys take great pride in looking well groomed. We are sure that this pride will reflect itself in all departments of school life.

In order to supply an unending supply of pipers for our band, Mr. Bradley now teaches the playing of the chanter to all classes in Music. He reports a noticeable improvement in chest development as a result!

The new magazine covers for our Library are a great success. They are colourful and practical. We now need a magazine rack. The Librarians report a great lack of Rider Haggard books. They have been growing in popularity recently. The day is not too far away when new bookcases must be found to replace the present ones. They have been repaired many times and are now worn and unattractive.

WHY I LIKE THE WEST MORE THAN THE EAST

As my train arrived in Toronto's Union Station a sharp pain of loneliness struck me. It would be a long time before I could return home—home to the wide open spaces where millions of people aren't crowded into large, dirty industrial cities. I had left behind a vast heritage; a land which our forefathers fought for hundreds of years to civilise. Gone were the endless, rolling fields of golden wheat, the spectacularly beautiful prairie sunsets and the clean residential cities of the West. Time would pass so slowly, but I would have to bear it. I was entering the heart of Canada's second largest city.

In the West, where, for some fifty odd years the friendliest people in the world have suffered under Ontario's rule, my friends will be enjoying a good stubble shoot or perhaps they will just be getting ready for a fine days camping or fishing. How I long to hear once more the mournful cry of the wild goose as he wings his way across slough and plain. These were some of the sights and sounds I loved; a meadow lark chirping merrily from a country telephone pole; the weird and wonderful drumming of a partridge in a hillside bluff; the grain elevators breaking the endless horizon in front of an afternoon sky; and the frogs croaking from a nearby pond. Even the sound of gravel on a country road would be music to my ears now.

Recently, oil derricks, reflecting the rapid growth of natural resources and industry have contrasted sharply with familiar wheat fields. Truly, although the West may not be the present land of opportunity, the futures lies there. Too many people fail to realise the importance of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—it's time these people did! If they faced the facts they would realise that Canada would be nothing without the West; a mere trickle on the North American continent. Floreat the West.

THE SUNSET

FAR away on the western horizon where lake meets sky can be seen a segment of the golden globe. Half way across the water a lone figure paddles silently along the shining aisle seemingly into the sun. The clouds in the West are made of red and gold adding glory to this wondrous spectacle. The clouds in the east, just barely catching the last faint rays of the sinking sun, have a golden lining and are losing their beautiful colours leaving nothing but darkness in the east. A still smaller segment is seen now and there is much less colour than before. At last the sun completely disappears "and leaves the world to darkness and to me."

SPRING

*"This is Spring,
The children cry.
"When birds and bees
Begin to fly."
This is the sound which is heard all day,
Whether at school or out at play.
After their games,
They come indoors
Tracking in mud all over the floors.
Oh, but this is just the beginning.
It's just the start of the inning.*

*Next it's baseball—you'll naturally find
That sooner or later,
Your Father's out of his mind.
For when those bills starting rolling in,
And when that bank roll's getting thin,
He can't blame his son—the Home-run King—
For remember! It's Spring.*

THE STUDENT PIPER

*Most boys wish that the pipes they could play,
But know few of the troubles that lie in their way,
Ranging from "the burl" to double high G-
In that great highland tune, "Bonnie Dundee".*

*You've mastered the chanter now I see,
The scale you can play from high A to low G,
Double F, double E, double B, double A-
And now the pipes you are ready to play.*

*Next morning you're up, happy and gay,
Tune your pipes and you're ready to play,
The notes come out both loud and clear
And make tunes that will please any ear.*

*Now in the band (and you're there to stay),
Proudly you march and pipe music play,
Will you think it was worth all the trouble and sorrow,
When you play, dressed in kilts, on parade tomorrow?*

PORTRAIT OF A WESTERN VALLEY

THE echoing cry of a kingfisher rang out across a grassy plain that glistened with dew; tall blue green grass, dancing and waving in an early morning breeze, stretched eternally to the east. A wood clothed in green lay in the distance—a haven for wildlife—beyond which the vegetation thinned where the mountains lifted clear of the forest. The mist clung to the rugged peaks allowing only traces of the rising sun to turn the hillside into a vivid purple hue. As the kingfisher cried out again the sun broke through the clouds, flooding the valley with light.

SPORTSMANSHIP

GOOD sportsmanship is important in any game, even if it be only a minor sport. It is up to every person who is in some way connected with the world of sport to uphold good sportsmanship in the game which he or she plays. The most frequent example of unfair play is in the Canadian game of hockey. It is from the top ranking stars of this game that the example of unfair play is seen and copied by the ambitious amateur player. I often wonder why people go to see a game where they are sure of seeing a stick-fight or examples of bad temper between the players of the competing teams. No game in the world has room for a player with an uncontrollable temper. A good sportsman should play his or her game fairly and the best they can. If this is done by all sportsmen I think that all competitive sports would improve and appear more interesting to the spectators.

UNUSUAL SUNSET

THE black, sinister thunder clouds gave an ominous rumble as they swept across the sky. The sun disappeared behind the craggy, ragged peaks of the mountains, leaving only streaks of blood to pierce the wicked clouds. With sudden fury and velocity the wind sprayed water over the rock strewn beach. There was a flash of lightning which reflected upon the red-bellied clouds, and a crack was heard as a tree fell. Out in the lake white-crested, foamy waves were breaking. The lake was in complete tumult as the last streaks of light were obliterated from the western sky.

MACDONALD HOUSE NIGHT

APRIL 30TH dawned bright and clear and once again the big day was upon us. The morning was spent removing desks from the classrooms and assembling the result of many weeks' work. This year there seemed to be greater efficiency than ever and by lunch time all was nearly ready—so ready in fact, that the afternoon was spent on the cricket field.

By eight o'clock it was apparent that we were going to have a good crowd and half an hour later we were adding extra chairs to the Little Theatre. The cast, inspired by a large and very receptive audience turned in a thoroughly excellent performance and all seemed to agree that the play was one of the best that Macdonald House had done.

The second half of the evening followed and the halls and classrooms were soon full to overflowing with parents and friends of the school looking over exhibits of all kinds. This year there seemed to be fewer models than usual although Lower Second produced an elaborate version of a Huron village. Among other original models were to be seen the Konticki by Kennedy, Davison and Sharpe, and a Tabernacle by Weber. Smith and Sharpe produced some oil paintings framed (no offers to purchase were accepted!) and Green exhibited an excellent relief map of the British Isles.

The Woodcraft display which is an exhibition of work done in the shop since September was excellent as usual. Mr. Kendall always fills the Library with articles ranging from towel racks to garden chairs and ash trays to electric lamps, wonderful evidence of the skill of his teaching, the progress made, and of the enthusiasm with which all look forward to work in the woodcraft shop.

We hope that all who attended Macdonald House Night—and it was one of the largest crowds ever—enjoyed the play, the exhibits, and, of course, the refreshments as much as we enjoyed having them visit us.

ESCAPADE

JUDGING from remarks overheard after the event Macdonald House, under the capable direction of Mr. Ives, was most successful in performing a difficult modern play. 'Escapade', a recent London success, is particularly difficult because of some long passages of idealistic discourse, but as a result of the careful staging and patient coaching there was no tedium.

Osborne II, as John Hampden the professional author-pacifist father of three 'normal' young boys was quite natural as he found his theories difficult to practise in personal life, though he had an unfortunate tendency to occasionally lower his voice without cause. Stella Hampden, Black II, was a convincing matron, and particularly impressed by the control she had of her hands. Wyllie, playing the part of the headmaster, Dr. Skillingworth, was drily conservative and non-committal—only occasionally destroying this effect by racing through his lines as though they were a recitation. Holden and Hyndman, as Paton and Daventry, were typical schoolboys, and played their parts with the right amount of enthusiasm; Hyndman as the older boy having the precocious self-assurance of the adolescent, while the very young Holden showed the right amount of nervousness as the very young Paton before the headmaster.

Andrew Deeson represented all the objectionable characteristics of the popularized reporter in his callous utilization of tragedy to satisfy the press' appetite, and Clatsoff succeeded in conveying some of these unpleasantries to the audience. Isserstedt's performance as the elderly Mrs. Hampden was convincing—even extraordinarily good in the last scene.

Dunn, Woolnough, Stronach, and Smith were satisfactory in their small parts—particularly the last as a most realistic secretary to Dr. Skillingworth.

The timing of some of the lines was a little slow, as was the curtain—but special mention should be made of the way in which the actors covered up some forgotten lines by maneuvering to permit the actor involved get within earshot of the prompter, rather than 'freezing' and making the error obvious.

Mention should be made of the set, simple enough, but most effective both in the Hampden's living-room and in the Headmaster's study. The stagehands changed scenes with dispatch and no untoward incidents. In particular, I am told, that Paul was efficient and reliable. The makeup and costuming were very effective—notably in the parts of Stella Hampden and Miss Betts. The director has asked me to express his warmest thanks to all the back-stage helpers and especially to Mrs. Adamson who was in charge of the costuming.

A PLAY AND A DAY AT U.C.C. PREP.

MARCH 19TH was One-Act Play Night at Upper Canada College. T.C.S. and S.A.C. joined U.C.C. in putting on plays. At last, after weeks of rehearsals, the big night had come. The T.C.S. choice was "Brothers in Arms", U.C.C. were presenting a Chinese play, "The Stolen Prince" and our play was called "The End of the Beginning".

We arrived at Upper Canada at about nine thirty in the morning and proceeded to carry down to the theatre an odd assortment of properties including a huge fireplace, a window and a doorway. The stage-hands, aided by Messrs Galt, Wright and Ives, began to set up the scenery. Soon we started a rehearsal. Directly afterwards, we had lunch in the Lower School Dining Room. We were free until supper time. The five of us decided to go to a movie and Mrs. Clatsoff kindly supplied the transportation. After a round of drinks—ginger ale—at the Pilot Tavern, we headed back to Upper Canada for supper. A few minutes later our director arrived with a very worried expression. He had been looking for us!

Soon after supper, it was time to get make-up and costumed. We then sat around chewing our nails until curtain time. Carlisle, our stage manager, ran around in all directions; rumour has it that he bumped into Mr. Galt several times! U.C.C. put on their play first and when the lights in the auditorium were dimmed, our three made-up and costumed actors crept in and watched the play. Our turn was next. After ten hectic minutes of changing the set, we were on! The play went quite well except that one flash light bulb did not flash. We then got changed and watched the T.C.S. play. We thought Hodgetts, as Syd White, was very good but, of course, he did not have the charm of Thomson, as Mr. Browne.

It was over all too quickly. Soon we were packing up and home-ward bound in the Headmaster's station wagon. In all it was a memorable night—something that we shall not forget for a long time. Our sincere thanks go to Mr. Galt who made it all possible.

LIBRARY NOTES

THE Library has had one of its most flourishing years. It has been used more extensively than ever before. No accurate count of the number of books withdrawn is available at the moment but the fact that one form alone (15 boys) has read over 300 books gives some idea of the use to which the facilities have been put.

Under the care of Stronach, Clatsoff, Osborne, Vaughan, Woolnough and Wilkins who have performed their sometimes tiresome duties quite faithfully, the library has been kept as much like a reading-room as possible. Certain improvements have been made, notably the procuring of rather handsome folders for magazines. Quite a few new books have also been added.

There are always things to be done in the Library and next year we have in mind a magazine rack and the addition of as many books as possible.

HOCKEY THE FIRST TEAM

THE season of 1954-55 will probably be remembered as the season of ties. Both the games, which we consider as the most important fixtures of the year, resulted in ties. When we visited Ridley College Junior School, the final score was 3-3 after a very well contested game—Ridley tied the score towards the end of the third period with a beautiful goal by their centre forward, Parkinson. Teskey scored twice for us. Our other important fixture was the visit of the Trinity College Junior School at Aurora. We would like to apologise to our visitors for the unnecessary severity of the officiating of the referee—However, we collected more penalties than our guests, so perhaps they have forgiven us. The final score was 2-2 in what the writer still considers to have been a cleanly played game by both sides. Another tie resulted from the game against Upper Canada College Bantams. This was an excellent game and we would like to make it into an annual fixture. As usual, our House Team was a little too old to play the Upper Canada College Prep Team. A team of First and Second Team members were defeated 5-1 by one of the best U.C.C. Prep Teams that we have ever seen.

The team record of only three victories out of twelve games is not very impressive. It should be pointed out that in the last three or four years, the House has had a couple of exceptionally good teams. This has resulted in our arranging games with comparatively senior teams from other schools. This is not the way to compile a remarkable record but it is, we hope, the way to improve our hockey.

On the First Team, we had two regular forward lines. Wyllie was the centre—forward of one and Teskey of the other. Wyllie's line had Kerr on the left wing and Hyndman on the right. Wyllie still lacks weight and the ability which goes with it to skate hard through the defence—he is too easily knocked over. In spite of this, he obtained more scoring points than any other player. Kerr is a very good skater but he was not always up with Wyllie on the rushes. The job of a forward is to score goals—he must always be in position for the scoring opportunities. Hyndman on the other wing is not quite aggressive enough. He was the youngest player on the team so perhaps next year, if he can improve his shot, he will show us he can score goals. On Teskey's line were Russell and Johnson. All three boys skate well and are capable of good individual rushes. During the season, they failed to play together as a unit. All our wing forwards endeavoured to back-check. On defence, we had Fell, our captain, Wilson II and Black II. We sadly missed an additional defenceman. In several of our games, our defencemen became tired before the end of the third period. Lakefield in a third period made us look particularly weak. It is unfortunate that our regular practices were only three quarters of an hour whereas the games were a full hour. The defencemen often failed to pass the puck in the centre area of the ice. In goal, we had McMaster. That we were scored on fifty one times was not always his fault. He showed a great improvement over last year and improved as the season progressed. Black III was our substitute goal keeper. If he is willing to make the required effort, he should develop into a good goalkeeper next year. Eaton was the team manager and statistician. He was helpful and willing at all times.

Colours were awarded to :— Black II, Fell, Kerr, McMaster, Russell, Teskey, Wilson II and Wyllie.

Results of the games were as follows:—

vs Pickering College Prep	W 13-2
vs University Toronto School Minor Midgets	W 6-5
vs De La Salle Bantams	L 3-7
vs Appleby 4ths	L 1-2

vs Aurora Public School	L 2-7
vs Hillfield—Grade 9 & 10	W 10-1

MACDONALD HOUSE GYMNASTICS

WITH only one member of the 1954 team remaining in Macdonald House the outlook for gymnastics was bleak. However an enthusiastic and hard-working group turned out through the long winter months, there were eleven entrants in the Macdonald House competition in March. They knew their fundamentals and did well, though they were untidy approaching and leaving the apparatus.

Illness forced the postponement of our meet with T.C.S. until April 31st, and by that time the team had overcome their weaknesses so that they returned victorious from Port Hope.

Wilson II (Captain), Vaughan, Paul, Stonach, Wilson III, and Yanguela represented Macdonald House at T.C.S. Wilson II and Vaughan were awarded colours, and the gymnastics trophy was won by Wilson II.

THE SKI RACE

THE annual (depending on the weather) Ski Race was held on Feb. 7th. Luckily there was ample snow for the race itself and the event was 'skied' off with the utmost despatch. There is no doubt, however, that the list of competitors grows shorter year by year, or, at any rate that skiing does not have the interest of as many as it used to have. The reason is obviously that during the past few years good weather conditions, at least in this area, have been the exception rather than the rule. In spite of this, there are one or two enthusiasts headed by Ward and they had a good year.

In the race, Ward was first in the excellent time of 34'51"—only 46 secs. off the record set in 1951 by McKenzie. The following are the prize winners:

- 1st Ward—Macdonald Cup
- 2nd Teskey—Lower Second Cake
- 3rd Kennedy—Upper Second Cake
- 4th Payne—Day Boy Cake
- 5th Eagar—Upper Flat Cake
- 6th Gerrard—Upper First Cake
- 7th Stronach—Fourth Form Cake
- 8th Carlisle II—Lower Flat Cake

FIRST CRICKET

Front Row, McMaster, Vaughan, Stamper I, Black II Capt., Yanguela, Ward, Stronach.

CRICKET

The season turned out to be a good one on the whole. There are many yardsticks by which success may be measured but the most important is whether the game was enjoyed. It was enjoyed, I think, by almost every boy in the House and certainly, unless appearances are deceptive, by the First Squad. Most of the members of this group progressed at least from a baseball swing to a golf swing although the number who passed on to a good straight bat is rather small. The squad under the Captaincy of Black II who did a really good job in every way, made good progress, especially from game to game. We had a couple of games with the Under 16's for experience sake but our mistake was not to have a couple more. In all we had 15 full practices and only one day was lost through rain and considering the relatively small amount of time spent on the field as a group, the team's achievements are not too bad.

The T.C.S. game was played at Port Hope this year on a wicket which, thanks to Mr. Tottenham, was magnificent. T.C.S. were deservedly victorious on the first innings by a score of 59-33. A full second innings was completed and our poor bowling did not support our improved batting and the final combined score was 145-95.

Against U.C.C., although we batted for a fewer number of overs than U.C.C. we won 99-44, McMaster scored 36 runs including four 4's and a six, and Ward took 6 wickets for 13 in a good display of bowling backed up by Black who made five catches. In our only home game, against Ridley, we were again victorious, 81-20. Wyllie opening our innings, made 26 and Black took 5 wickets for 10 runs. Ridley's best bowler was Donaldson who took 6 for 6.

Black began the year as wicket keeper but gave up this job to Wyllie, who performed very creditably indeed, in order to become a bowler. As batsmen, Black, Stronach, Johnson and Banfield were the most polished although the two former must work hard to correct their "golf" swings. Among the other members of the team mention must be made of Yanguela's fielding and of Wilkin's general performance. The latter improved tremendously and with a little more experience and confidence could become a very useful batsman.

I think that every member of the First Squad will say that the more he plays and learns, the better he likes the game. We shall probably have only two or three of this year's team back next year and I hope that every single one of those going to the Upper School will continue to play, first on the Under 16's and then for the First XI. Two years hence we expect a strong School team and we in Macdonald House would very much like to see members of the First team visiting our squad practices to encourage young players.

The trophy for the best all-rounder was awarded to Black 11, and McMaster and Ward won the batting and bowling awards respectively.

Colours were awarded to: Black 11, Banfield, McMaster, Robertson, Stronach, Ward, Wilkins, Wyllie.

Writing as the coach of the Second Squad, I can report a very successful season. The weather has been very kind to us, practices have taken place with clock-like regularity. As the season progressed, our bowlers gained in accuracy of direction and length—Massie, Rowan and Mazzei IV were our best performers. Batsmanship also improved—there were less "Dupuis run aways" and less "Letss swing acrosses"—More boys played a straight bat and more front feet went towards the bounce of the ball. Black III was top of our batting averages. Gerrard developed a good backward defensive shot and Mazzei IV played the straightest bat on the squad. Oundjian showed promise and has obviously played a lot of cricket.

In our two games, we did fairly well, tying T.C.S. with a score of 61 all and defeating B.R.C. 79-64. The most encouraging feature of the team was that all our bowling was done by the youngest boys; they should have at least three more years to bowl for Macdonald House.

THE CEILIDH

ON Friday, Feb. 4th, the second annual Old Boys' Ceilidh was held at the Granite Club, Toronto. It turned out to be a livelier and more largely attended gathering than that of the previous year. Judging by the attendance this year it may be necessary to limit the sale of tickets for the next Ceilidh which is planned for next February. The highland dances were a great success and the size of the dance floor was the only limitation to the number of dancers. Next year it is hoped that there will be more highland dances.

The Old Boys' Pipe Band was again one of the features of the evening—even if the pipers did have to stop for breath when reaching the end of the hall. They rallied, however, and marched on to the cheers of their admirers.

Many Old Boys from out of town were present; some had even travelled several hundred miles. There were also many present who had never before attended an Old Boys' gathering. A good feature of the evening was the fact that speeches were few and short.

Watch for a bigger and better Ceilidh in 1956.

MONTREAL OLD BOYS' DINNER

ON 23RD February, a most successful and enjoyable gathering of Montreal Old Boys was held at the Mount Stephen Club when under the genial chairmanship of Dr. Dudley Ross some forty Andreans sat down for an excellent dinner and many a yarn about old school days. In addition to the Headmaster, who spoke about St. Andrew's and education in general, invited guests included Mr. Stephen Penton, Headmaster of Lower Canada College, and Mr. Robert Speirs, Headmaster of Selwyn House School. Dr. Kilpatrick joined the gathering later and contributed a short but witty speech. The showing of some films of the school ended a most pleasant evening. In order to make it more possible for Old Boys at McGill to attend, it was decided that in future they would be charged half price for dinner tickets. The school salutes the members of the dinner committee for making the evening such a success.

Among the Old Boys who attended were D. A. MacLaren ('20-'23), Peter McLean ('45-'51), Tom Barnes ('25-'28), G. H. Lash ('10-'11), Fred Rea ('21-'30), Pat Davis ('37-'41), Bob McGregor ('46-'48), Bob Turnbull ('46-'48), Jack Cameron ('14-'23), G. R. McGregor ('17-'19), K. M. Case ('24-'29), Dr. Gibson Craig ('24-'28), C. A. McIntosh ('16-'17), Bob Pollock ('14-'17), Bill Marsh ('22-'28), Bud Squires ('21-'27), Eddie Noonan ('18-'21), A. M. Hunter ('40-'42), Ross Malcolm ('09-'11), J. A. Munroe ('48-'53), D. McDongal ('48-'50), H. R. McDougol ('21-'23), D. B. Kilpatrick ('34-'39), A. C. Pitfield ('44-'49), Douglas Cook ('20-'22), Larry Hampson ('34-'40), Russell Black ('15-'20), D. B. Hampson ('36-'39), Seymour Black ('13-'18), P. C. Marsh ('09-'10), J. E. Munro ('14-'17), Jack Dymont ('20-'24), Dr. Lorne Montgomery ('09-'12).

OLD BOYS' CRICKET MATCH

IT is most surprising that the Old Boys can field such a strong cricket team year after year. This year's team was one of the best. An account of the game appears elsewhere in this issue. The stand made by Bill Lovering and Mort Grant was the feature of the game. There was a good turnout of Old Boys to witness the game. Among those noted were: John Trent, Willie Frith, Bill Kay, Pete Hill, Wilf Dinnick, Doug Lovell, Dave Sanderson, John Shearson, John and Richie Vaughan, Chris and Barry Wansbrough, Paul Strickland, George McLean, Doug Grant, Ray Atkin, Bill Lovering, Mort Grant, John Cathers, Peter Gordon and Mike Adamson.

THE HOCKEY MATCH

YOU may have heard of a team having great depth. The Old Boys' hockey team was deep in reserve strength—perhaps we shouldn't say "strength". But when some twenty-five O.B.'s turn out looking for a game of hockey what can the manager do but give each and everyone a whirl on the ice—even if he had not been on skates for three years? So, depth swamped the Old Boys—depth, but not strength—and we will say no more about it!

OLD BOYS' DINNER IN NOVEMBER

FOR the past two years there has not been an Old Boys' Dinner. Many Andreans have wondered why the Annual Dinner had been discontinued. The Council of the Old Boys' Association felt that it would be difficult to hold successfully both a dinner and a Ceilidh in the same year.

It is now realized that a great many Old Boys miss their annual pilgrimage to the school for a reunion with their old school-mates and masters, and to revisit the scene of their triumphs (?) both scholastic and athletic. The Old Boys' Council has therefore decided that a dinner will be held on Friday, November 11th, of this October but, in the meantime, plan to make up a party of your year—very few speeches—if any. You will be sent a reminder next September. In the meantime arrange with your old gang to visit the school on Armistice Day.

OLD BOYS' FOUNDATION

ALTHOUGH the annual appeal for funds for the Foundation was only mailed during the first week in May, we find at the time of writing (May 19th) that there has been a fairly good response. An increase, both in the number of donations received and in the total amount, is noted.

OLD BOYS' NOTES

Harold Cooch ('02-'06) has retired as Chairman of the Board of the Canadian Westinghouse Co. after forty-five years of service. He began his career with the company in 1910 as a student engineer. In 1938 he was appointed vice-president of the company, and in 1949, he became president. One year later he was made Chairman of the Board. He will now devote much of his time to the Federal District Commission for the beautification of the national capital, while also being available to the Westinghouse Co. in a consultive capacity.

Rev. C. G. Eakins ('11-'16) of Niagara Falls, Ont., was a clerical delegate to the 81st synod of the Diocese of Niagara.

W. Lloyd Wood ('04-'08) is the campaign chairman of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross. He has been doing Red Cross work in an executive capacity since 1939 when he was appointed chairman of the Toronto Branch.

Graham F. Towers ('11-'13), former governor of the Bank of Canada, has been appointed a member of the Canadian Committee, Hudson's Bay Co. He has also recently been elected a director of of the Canada Life Assurance Co.

Clarence Wallace ('11-'12), Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, has been elected a director of the B.C. Power Corp.

W. B. Macdonald ('21-'30) was apointed Toronto campaign committee chairman of the Canadian Red Cross.

Joe Errington ('42-'46) writes the headmaster: "I plan on being at Indiana University again next fall, studying for a Ph.D. As before, I have been awarded a graduate assistantship which will help considerably. We are quite looking forward to Bloomington, Ind. again."

Wood Bedell ('34) is Business Development Officer with the Central National Bank in Richmond, Va. He has been active in numerous community activities. He is looking forward to bringing his four sons to Muskoka this summer.

Aportion of the collection taken at the 1954 carol services was sent to The Rev. Govan Kilgour ('37-'41) in Readlyn, Sask. Early in January the Headmaster received a letter from him, a portion of which we quote: "Your cheque, the donation of a part of the Chapel Service collection, was a most delightful surprise, and all the more welcome since it was so completely unexpected. To heighten my appreciation of it, I had a place where I could put it to immediate use. It happened that one of our churches has been long overdue for a new stove. The present pot-bellied one was very old, unsightly and woefully inefficient. At a meeting of the Board of Stewards in the autumn, the matter of its replacement was discussed, but it was decided that, owing to the disastrous failure of the 1954 wheat crop, the replacement would have to wait for another year. Things were not too bad until the Christmas service when a cold snap (that means 15-20 below at least) turned our church into an ice-box. Many of the record seventy-three who were in attendance later remarked (not to me) that it would be their last time there till spring. Not surprisingly the matter came up again at a recent Board meeting and it was decided to go ahead and try to collect for a new twin-burner oil heater. Your gift is going to that fund and will lighten the load."

Pedro Martin ('07-'10) writes the Headmaster: "We received the mid-winter Reviews yesterday and on looking up the "Old Boy's News" we had a good laugh when we read the marriage announcements. Alan Ramsey evidently got the whole thing mixed up because the invitations were written in Spanish, and he actually married Pete to his mother-in-law and Ed to his wife's Granny!!"

(Note—A Spanish speaking boy was consulted before the notices were sent to the Review—Perhaps it was his idea of a joke. The boy has now left the school so disciplinary action cannot be taken—Our apologies to all the Martins. The school records have been duly corrected.)

J. M. Macdonnell who was a housemaster at S.A.C. from 1908 to 1911 has for many years represented the Toronto-Greenwood riding in the Dominion House. Recently he was presented with a plaque by the Toronto branch of the Queen's University Alumni Association "for outstanding service to Queen's and to Canada."

Austin S. Thompson ('31-'37) has become associated with the firm of Matthews and Co., members of the Toronto Stock Exchange.

R. J. Kane ('47-'51) has recently graduated from the Canadian Chiropractic College.

Dean Seaton ('35-'38) is General Traffic Manager of General Milk Products of Canada in Brockville. He was married in 1942 and has a six-year-old son.

J. M. DaCosta ('44-'47) is with the law firm of Mungovan and Mungovan in Toronto.

Peter L. Robinson ('24-'27) who has been in the investment business for many years, has become a partner in the stock brokerage firm of Goodwin Harris & Co.

Geoff Ramsey ('47-'51) is now with T.V. Station CHEX in Peterboro, Ont.

Hugo Tapp ('46-'51) is an announcer with the radio station in Kirkland Lake, Ont.

Doug Hill ('47-'51) who was the Editor in Chief of the Trinity University Review has been granted a Cumming Fellowship in English at Trinity College for 1955-56.

Chris Wansbrough ('46-'50) has won the University College Football award for "the most valuable player - 1954". He was also awarded the University College Cody Trophy for his contribution to athletics during the past three years.

Peter Howe ('33-'37) is with the Excelsior Life at 36 Toronto St. A. F. R. Brown ('42-'46) who has been attached to the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, for work on his Doctor's degree, spent the winter in Algiers doing research work. He and his wife may return to Canada in August.

David Flemming ('36-'40) has spent the last two years in the graduate school at Brown University, Providence, R.I. He is now with the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulating Co. in Minneapolis.

Richard D. Ankeman ('36-'39) visited the school recently. He is with the Chesley Chair Co. at Chesley, Ont.

Donald Davis ('41-'46) having completed a successful season at the Crest Theatre in Toronto, is now playing important parts in the third annual Shakespearean Festival at Stratford, Ont.

Jack Perrin Jr. ('28-'34) is helping to bring back professional hockey to Winnipeg. He was in Toronto last February trying to arrange a working agreement with one of the N.H.L. clubs.

Jim Cotter ('50-'51) is serving as a lieutenant with the Canadian Army in Germany. In a basketball game last November, he broke his right ankle in three places but he was hoping to be in shape for the playdowns for the British Army championship in March. He expects to be back in Canada in November.

Ross Malcolm ('10-'12) has been appointed board room manager at the head office of Roger R. Belanger, Montreal.

Dr. Alistair Macrae ('41-'44) has been practicing at the Port Arthur Clinic for the past two years. He expects to come to Toronto soon for a year's post-graduate training at the Western Hospital.

Peter Mackendrick ('52-'54) has just completed another successful year at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Cecil Free ('50-'54) writes to the Headmaster from London, Eng.— "My work at Lloyds is perfectly fascinating and I know now that I shall definitely be in the insurance business the rest of my life, either here or in Canada. There are always new problems cropping up which have to be solved and the ramifications of the business are quite incredible. As you well know when it comes to figures I was never anywhere near the top, so it was quite a jolt to find myself surrounded with all sorts figuring work to do—I am eagerly looking forward to seeing Mr. Gibb and Mr. Macfarlane this summer.

Rex Southgate ('47-'49) received favorable comment for his portrayal of the role of Gloucester in Robert Gill's production of King Lear at Hart House last season.

Coulter Osborne ('50-'52) was again one of the leading scorers on the University of Western Ontario's championship basketball team.

Powell Smiley ('20-'27) is public relations officer of St. Jean de Brebeuf College, Montreal.

Among those appointed Queen's Counsel in the last New Year's list were: George Burson ('20-'30), James S. Graham ('28-'31) and Henry F. White ('18-'29), all of Toronto.

Joe Nold ('42-'48) writing in February to the Headmaster from Sicily, Italy, stated that he had spent a month in Innsbruck and a month in Vienna and was expecting to go to Northern Italy in the spring.

John Parker ('23-'30) of Yellowknife is a member of the Territories Council. Recently he made a petition to Ottawa to provide a ferry across Great Slave Lake. There are 214 passenger cars in the northwest Territories but they cannot at present go more than four miles in any one direction. The ferry would provide a link to Hay River and access to the road to Grimshaw, Alta.

George Hutson ('52-'54) has just completed his first year at Royal Roads. He was a member of the rifle team that competed at the College Militaire, St. Jean, Que.

O B I T U A R Y

James Ernest Harris (Pep) Paisley ('08-'10) came to St. Andrew's College in Sept., 1908, entering Form IVA. At Christmas he was promoted to V B and in June, 1909 he went up to Form Upper VI, matriculating into McGill University in June, 1910. In his last year at St. Andrew's he was Captain of the Football Team and also won his hockey colors. During the year he led the school as a most effective Head Prefect, discharging his duties with high commendation from both boys and authority.

At McGill he soon became well known, fastening on himself the nickname "Pep", which came to him at school from his frequent use of the word to urge his team on to further effort.

He learned his football at St. Andrew's where he played as Quarter Back. On going to McGill he was soon tried out on the half-back line where he played for the first team during his years at McGill, where he enrolled in Architecture. On graduation he accepted a position on the Staff of Architecture where he remained several years.

On the outbreak of war in 1914 he promptly enlisted, joining the Artillery and was appointed Lieutenant in Command of the right Section of "C" Battery, R.C.H.A. In due course he returned home at the conclusion of the war, having served most actively.

He settled in Toronto, where he practiced his profession as an Architect. As an "Old Boy" partner in the firm of Marani and Paisley he entered in 1923, the Old Boys' contest for the building and grouping plans of the new college building in Aurora, his firm winning the competition. To his and Marani's skill and imagination we owe the beautiful and gracefully situated buildings which became the home of the School in the Autumn of 1926. Macdonald House and the Chapel (both the gift of Sir. Joseph Flavelle) were built by Paisley, when two years later he was practicing alone.

In Sept. 1936 he went to England and in 1937 was sent by the British Government to Lagos, in Nigeria to superintend the erection of Government Buildings in that place. Subsequently, some five years ago he returned to Canada and took up work for his former partner, F. H. Marani.

For the past two years he was employed by the Ottawa Government making a thorough examination of the East Block, to report on the possibility of adding accommodation, and also to report on the present condition of the building itself from the foundation to the roof. This report was completed and given to the Government a short time ago. Not long after, Pep suffered a stroke from which he appeared to be recovering. On the Easter Week-end he came to Toronto to spend a few days with his sister. He was still slow in his movements and made considerable use of his cane when getting about. His old Headmaster spent a delightful two hours with him on Easter Saturday afternoon. On the Monday he returned to Ottawa to take up further work but on the following Saturday when morning coffee was taken to him he was found dead, having passed away in his sleep quite peacefully.

Dear "old Pep", always unselfish and thoughtful for others, will long be remembered by a host of friends. D.B.M.

J. Ogilvie Hastings ('06-'07) died in Montreal on Dec. 4th, 1954. He was born in Winnipeg in 1888. He came to St. Andrew's in 1906 and was a member of the first hockey team. He went overseas in 1914 with the 13th Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada, and, while serving with the rank of captain, was wounded in June, 1916. His brother, Roy was killed in action the same year. For many years he was in the investment business in Montreal but he retired because of ill health in 1937. He was a Charter Member and Past President of the Montreal Tennis Club. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, and two sons, (one of whom, Roy, attended St. Andrew's from 1937 to 1940) and two daughters.

Angus Charles Bethune ('19-'21) died in Vancouver on Mar. 31st, 1955. In 1921 he was the winner of the 2nd General Proficiency Prize in the Upper Sixth Form. He was also a member of the Tuck Shop Committee. For some time he was with the Maclean Publishing Co. both in Montreal and Toronto.

Arthur Martin Grand ('00-'04) was one of the first hundred boys enrolled at St. Andrew's. He died suddenly at his home in Toronto on February 10th. On leaving S.A.C. he worked for several years with the Canadian General Electric Co. and then joined the company founded by his father in 1882, Grand and Toy Ltd. At the time of his death he was a director of the company. He was unmarried, and is survived by three nephews and a niece.

Henry Allison Drury ('20-'26) died at the Toronto General Hospital on January 3d. He entered the second form at St. Andrew's at the age of eleven and gained regular promotion, winning proficiency prizes in several forms. In 1925 he was awarded the Lieut. Governor's Bronze Medal. He was a loyal Old Boy and a regular attendant at most Old Boy functions. His brother, Bob, also an Andrean, was killed in the last war.

Flight-Lieut. John McEntegart ('44-'45). Word has recently been received of the death of John McEntegart. While serving in the R.A.F. in Germany he was killed in a flying accident. He was the son of Air Marshal Bernard McEntegart, O.B.E. He attended St. Andrew's for only one year, returning to England at the end of the war. In 1945 he won the first general proficiency prize in Grade 7.

Chester M. Leishman ('05-'10). While on a fishing trip in the vicinity of North Bay, Chester Leishman suffered a stroke and died on May 21st. He came to St. Andrew's in 1905 at the age of eleven and was at the school for the next five years. On leaving S.A.C. he was for a short time with the Canadian Northern Railway. In 1913 he joined his father's company, Wm. H. Leishman & Co. He served in France as an officer in the 123rd Battalion. About twenty-five years ago he joined the T. Eaton Co. and rose rapidly with that company, becoming supervisor of clothing departments in 1940. He was appointed a director of the company in 1944. At the time of his death he was director in charge of all Eaton factory operations. Three of his brothers attended St. Andrew's, also two of his nephews.

Basil B. Colcough—After a long illness which he bore with cheerful courage, The Rev. Basil Colcough died in the York County Hospital in Newmarket on Monday, May 30th. He was buried from his home in Newmarket. During his stay at St. Andrew's College as a Master of Modern languages he displayed keen interest in his favourite subjects, French and German. He was also particularly interested in hobbies. He spoke with authority in matters pertaining to radio and photography. During the war he held a senior position in the War Prisoners Camp at Gravenhurst. Many of the Old Boys who passed through the College during his tenure as a Master will remember him as a loyal servant of the school.

SAVINGS and protection through life insurance, permits many Canadians to achieve a sense of financial security which would not be available to them in any other way. It is a fact that nearly every family owns some life insurance or is receiving some benefit from it.

A PUBLIC service industry with numerous specialized and diversified fields, the life insurance business offers career opportunities limited only by individual ability and ambition.

CANADA Life enjoys a leading position among Canadian life insurance companies. Should you be interested, the Personnel Department will be pleased to talk with you at any convenient time.

TCP repowers your engine within 400 miles

Acts so fast you'll think your engine's had a tune-up before you've finished your second tankful—within 400 miles.

TCP, a Shell-discovered additive, blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, puts an end to one of the greatest causes of power loss. It is the most important development in gasoline since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922.

TCP was originally developed by Shell Research for aviation fuels—is now available to motorists but only from Shell Dealers.
